OCTOBER

Dear friends,
 “Women are the largest untapped reservoir of talent in the World,” said Hillary Clinton.
 There is nothing erroneous in participating in the development of society, hence women empowerment is one of the principal terms for society's overall development.
 The empowerment and autonomy of women and the improvement of their political, social, economic and health status is a highly important end in itself. In addition, it is essential for the achievement of sustainable development.

Women's empowerment is valuable for the development & advancement of the family, community as well as the Nation. Apropos to this under the visionary guidance of DG Santosh Pradhan, the 1st ever women's car rally of RI Dist. 3060 was held and turned out to be a huge success & I stand proud to say, Rotary club of Bharuch had the maximum participation under the leadership of club 1st lady Rtn. Dr. Palak&Rtn. Gunjan, received great praise and recognition for the same from the DG. As a token of salute and appreciation this bulletin's cover page is dedicated to the women's car rally team -A true representation of Women empowerment.

Empowered women make the Nation empowered making it culturally rich, robust in health and financially prosperous, thus leading to multi fold increase in attitude towards service to uplift the underprivileged, a true attitude of a Rotarian to give to the Rotary foundation to Serve to change lives...

- Rtn Dr. Vikram Premkumar

Shekhar Mehta
 President 2021-22

I first discovered the value of service when I saw how a few simple acts can immeasurably change lives. It began when I joined others in my club for a project to bring toilets and clean drinking water to rural villages near our city. It moved forward when we promoted sanitation and provided opportunities for education across the country, thanks to generous gifts from supporters who believed in our projects as much as those of us on the ground did.

There is no better time of the year to be reminded of that generosity than November, which is Rotary Foundation Month.

As the charitable arm of Rotary International, The Rotary Foundation is the engine that powers so many Rotary projects throughout the world. The Foundation transforms your gifts into projects that change lives. It is the Foundation that helps us to get closer to our goal of eradicating polio, to show more people how we promote peace through tangible actions, and to demonstrate the impact our projects have in our areas of focus.

Consider some recent projects that were made possible by the Foundation:

The Rotary clubs of Guatemala La Reforma, Guatemala, and Calgary, Alberta, received an $80,000 global grant to organize a comprehensive plan to train nurses and rural health care workers to prevent and treat cervical cancer and to implement a sustainable system of referrals in seven regions of Guatemala.

More than two dozen hospitals in Honduras received personal protective equipment for their medical staff thanks to a $169,347 global grant sponsored by the Rotary clubs of Villa Real de Tegucigalpa, Honduras, and Waldo Brookside-Kansas City, Missouri.

The Rotary clubs of Cotonou Le Nautile, Benin, and Tournai Haut-Escaut, Belgium, received a $39,390 global grant to provide agricultural training at an ecologically responsible permaculture mini-farm connected to a center for children in Sowé, Benin. This will help a new generation of farmers become economically self-sufficient.

I like comparing The Rotary Foundation to the Taj Mahal, a monument of one man's love for a woman. The Foundation is a dynamic monument of our love for all of humanity.

This month I am asking all Rotary clubs to bring attention to the Foundation. It is what connects all Rotarians worldwide and transforms our collective passions into projects that change lives. Visit rotary.org/donate; once there, you will have an opportunity to give directly to the program you're most passionate about.

Thank you for giving your all to Rotary. You are the reason that Rotary is able to do more and grow more. Let's continue to represent that important legacy this month, this year, and beyond as we Serve to Change Lives.

Dear Readers,
I am RajulToprani, married to SatyenToprani and blessed with 2 daughters.
It gives me immense joy and a sense of pride to have recently joined the Rotary Club of Bharuch.
Philanthropy always played a major role in my upbringing with my Grandfather and Father running a school specially for underprivileged girls in my hometown, Mandvi and providing meals through camps on a regular basis to the needy besides several other noble charitable activities.

My husband and I donate mid-day meals for 1000 girls every month through a charitable trust in Rajpipla.
Being a Rotarian gives me the opportunity to experience the warm fellowship that all Rotary members experience. Expanding one's circle of friends and fostering lifelong friendships and at the same time serving the community by being involved in Rotary affairs and service projects are the few reasons that excite one to join Rotary.
I have chosen to channelise my services through Rotary since it is the leading social service organisation in the world.
I am already a member of the Rotary family, being a proud Inner Wheel member since past several years. My husband has been a Rotaract President and also served as Hon. Secretary on the Rotary Board.
I believe that being a person dedicated to serving and uplifting of the community, Rotary is an ideal platform to offer service to people and consequently serve humanity.
Thankyou
- Rajul Toprani

Global Partnership for Education Teams Up with Rotary to Advocate for Education

Rotary's relationship with the Global Partnership for Education is already having an impact, as incoming district governors learned at the International Assembly in January. "Together we are changing the lives of girls and other vulnerable children in the poorest corners of the world," said Alice P. Albright, the organization's chief executive officer, in her remarks about the relationship, formed in April 2020. "Rotary has a unique voice and standing on the global stage and in virtually every country. You can use that voice to advocate for more resources and then work with government leaders to ensure that they are distributed equitably."

GPE is a multi-stakeholder partnership and global fund that facilitates improved outcomes and gender equity in education and supports large-scale changes to education systems around the world. In Rwanda, for example, GPE helped increase access to early childhood education by funding training for more than 5,500 teachers, developing teaching kits and play-based instructional materials, and building 400 schools. In Kenya, the organization helped implement a plan that included making primary education free, which increased enrollment from 72 percent in 2003 to 88 percent in 2012 and closed the gender gap, achieving nearly equal numbers of boys and girls in school. And in Pakistan, GPE provided funding for a distance-learning program that uses social media platforms, as well as radio, TV, and mobile phones, to keep students learning during the COVID-19 pandemic. The program may even help reach the 19 million children who were not attending school before the pandemic.

Rather than implementing projects itself in a given country, GPE brings together stakeholders from the public and private sectors around a national education plan; it also channels funding from private donors and governments to help finance those plans. Each country's plan is tailored to its specific needs and aligned with the local education plan supported by the government. In turn, partner countries are encouraged to allocate 20 percent of their domestic budget to education. Ultimately, GPE's goal is for local governments to take responsibility for fully funding a plan that delivers 12 years of schooling, plus a year of preschool, to every girl and boy.

GPE works with organizations and governments in 76 countries, many of them in sub-Saharan Africa. Funding is issued to governments through grant agents, which range from UN agencies, to NGOs, to global and regional development banks. The European Union, the United States, and other countries contribute funds to GPE. Since its founding in 2002, the organization has raised nearly $11 billion to improve educational outcomes around the world.

Rotary's partnership with GPE will help Rotarians join the conversation at national levels, where GPE has contacts, and integrate their projects into a country's broader educational efforts. In turn, Rotary members can mobilize their extensive networks in areas that can be difficult for other organizations to reach. "Rotary will be a key partner, given its strong role in the local community and experience in community outreach," says Aparna Krishnamurthy, private sector and foundations specialist for GPE.

In the early stages of the partnership, Rotary hopes to engage members in three to five countries that are already part of the GPE network. Activities will differ depending on the specific needs within each country. Mary Jo Jean-Francois, Rotary International's area of focus manager for basic education and literacy, says Rotarians could play a key role, for instance, in helping families understand what educational resources from GPE are available to their communities, and in conveying to governments what kind of educational assistance those communities need most. "This partnership gives Rotarians a seat at the table to not only voice concerns about what might be happening within education," Jean-Francois says, "but also to understand the policies around education and bring those back to the community."

Rotary members have already participated in meetings with officials from the ministries of education and other private-sector partners in Ghana, Kenya, and Zimbabwe. In those countries, Rotarians will take part in the Girls' Education Awareness Program, a GPE initiative that will use messaging campaigns to help break down social barriers to educating girls, such as early marriage and favoritism within families for boys over girls when it comes to education (girls are 1.5 times more likely than boys to be excluded from primary school). The program will be guided by each country's ministry of education and will complement existing strategies. "Rotarians at the consultations noted the importance of a strong community-based approach," Krishnamurthy says, "and shared examples of various partnerships they have forged with local community leaders in areas that are hardest to reach."

GPE held a global education summit 28-29 July as part of its effort to raise $5 billion to support children in up to 90 countries and territories over the next five years. The organization plans to use this funding to ensure that 175 million boys and girls can learn, to enroll 88 million more children in school, and to train 2.2 million teachers. The summit included both virtual and in-person events in the United Kingdom and was co-hosted by British Prime Minister Boris Johnson and Kenyan President Uhuru Kenyatta. The funding campaign, called Raise Your Hand, garnered support from world leaders and celebrities, including former U.S. first lady Michelle Obama, international soccer star Didier Drogba, and supermodel Naomi Campbell.

GRANTS

Grants Related information on Covid-19 The Executive Committee, acting on behalf of the Trustees, took the decision on 24 April (shown below) to increase options for Rotarians to utilize Rotary Foundations grants—including district, global, and disaster response—to support Rotary's response to Covid-19. District grants Districts can use district grant funds to support local activities, like purchasing thermometers, protective medical gear, or other items to donate to medical professionals who need them. Districts can also use contingency funds from an open district grant or repurpose previously planned activities as a COVID-19 response.

District grants Districts can use district grant funds to support local activities, like purchasing thermometers, protective medical gear, or other items to donate to medical professionals who need them. Districts can also use contingency funds from an open district grant or repurpose previously planned activities as a COVID-19 response. As districts prepare to submit new district grant applications for 2020-21, we encourage you to designate funds for COVID-19 response. As a one-time exception, the Foundation will allow expenses related to COVID-19 that were incurred since 15 March 2020 to be reimbursed through 2020-21 district grants.

Disaster response grants and the Rotary Disaster Response Fund Rotary's disaster response grants provide a fast and effective way to respond to local events. The Rotary Foundation recently added COVID-19 projects to its list of eligible activities for these grants. Each district can apply for one grant (of up to $25,000) to address COVID-19, depending on the availability of funds. Disaster response grants are funded by the Rotary Disaster Response Fund to help districts around the world respond to disasters. The fund accepts online contributions and DDF. Districts may designate their DDF contributions to the Disaster Response Fund to be used exclusively for COVID-19 grant activities. Cash contributions will be used for general disaster response, including response to COVID-19.

Global grants Global grants remain an excellent way to make a transformative impact in a community. If medical equipment is needed in order to respond effectively to COVID-19, global grants can help pay for these items. The Foundation is waiving the 30 percent foreign financing requirement for any new global grant that addresses COVID-19. Please contact Grants staff members if you have questions. Thank you for all your work to support Rotarians who are Doing Good in the World, especially during this challenging time.

Reporting Requirements As you are already aware that the country is under lock down and the Rotary International South Asia office staff are working from home. Our reporting deadlines (interim report due by 31 May 2020 for the activities up to 31 Mar 2020) is fast approaching and we are not sure when the office will be fully functional. As per our existing reporting requirements, Foundation required the club's/district's to file the interim report online and the hard copy originals of the utilization certificates along with bank statement were supposed to be couriered to South Asia office. Due to the current situation due to Covid-19, it is requested that the interim reports may be filed on line and upload the utilization certificates along with bank statement onto the grant site before submitting the report online. For final reports, upload the bills/receipts, undertaking and beneficiary information along with the utilization certificates along with bank statement before submitting the report online. Foundation would appreciate, if the original hard copy of the utilization certificates along with bank statement be couriered to the South Asia office, once the situation returns back to normal and we start working from office
