Message from Rotary International President

Rotary is at its best when we foster a sense of inclusion and belonging in our clubs. In fact, I would go so far as to say that belonging is The Magic of Rotary itself.

With a focus on inclusivity and belonging, it is easier to be united in a common purpose. When we are committed to one another and focused on our goals, we are most effective.

Rotary's Action Plan can help. The Action Plan comes with tools you can use to collect feedback, assess your club's strengths and weaknesses, and address challenges.

The world is changing, and our clubs can't afford to stand still. But the changes we make need to be consistent and strategic — building on one another toward a greater vision. The Action Plan can help you work toward that vision and create effective change within your club. Following the Action Plan and addressing suggestions from the community will go a long way to fostering the sense of belonging we want all Rotary members to feel in their clubs.

That's why expanding our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion is so important. Committing ourselves to each other's well-being is the first step to expanding our reach, allowing us to spread Positive Peace in these troubled times.

Peacebuilding is one of our top priorities, and one of the most effective ways we can build peace is with our Rotary Peace Fellowships, through which peace and development professionals learn how to prevent and end conflict.

We offer the fellowships through our Rotary Peace Centers at leading universities around the globe, where more than 1,800 Rotary Peace Fellows have graduated. And thanks to a $15.5 million gift from the Otto and Fran Walter Foundation, we can continue supporting peacebuilders in more regions with the next peace center at Bahçeşehir University in Istanbul.

Opening another peace center is a monumental achievement, and it is my great honor to invite you to celebrate at next year's Rotary Presidential Peace Conference at the Istanbul center. The three-day conference 20-22 February will highlight the many ways our family of Rotary advances peacebuilding. Registration for the conference is officially open. I hope to see you there.

The 2025 Rotary Presidential Peace Conference has great potential for our peacebuilding efforts — but only if we have your support.

The truth is, we're not going to bring peace to the world, end polio, or grow membership by waving a wand and saying some funny words. It's up to you. You create the magic with every project completed, every dollar donated, and every new member inducted.

I love my Rotary family and I know you do too. That's why I know that together, we can make every club and district simply irresistible. This year, let us change the world by embracing The Magic of Rotary.

My Journey and a Walk Down Memory Lane.. The RYLA in 1984...

At the stroke of dawn on September 13th, 1984, just barely out of nineteen, I stood at the threshold of an adventure. The letter inviting me to the Rotary Youth Leadership Awards (RYLA) camp had arrived like a burst of sunlight through my monotonous engineering study routine. Excitement bubbled up as I packed my bag, meticulously following the instructions on what to bring and how to engagement. It turns out, serving others can be just as thrilling as beating your opponents in a game of sport.

Each day, with a sense of anticipation on what the day would bring, I found myself more captivated. The instructors spoke with passion, instilling in us a sense of purpose. In the evenings, the fireside chats became a gathering point for deep, soulful “profound” (yes, that was the buzzword) behave. Yet, the gnawing anxiety persisted-my stomach felt like it was hosting a butterfly convention. I was about to spend a few days in a residential camp with strangers-fellow students from various colleges across Bangalore.

Stepping off the autorickshaw and into the courtyard, my heart raced. The air buzzed with the hum of conversations and a scent that could only be described as a mix of exhilaration and yummy food (I was an ever-hungry teenager). My eyes flitted around, taking in the sea of unfamiliar faces. Self-doubt washed over me like a cold shower. Would I fit in, or would I be the lone awkward penguin in a flock of graceful swans?

But the Rotarians were masters at making us feel at home. Santosh Nedungadi, Shailendra Gupta, P. J. Reddy, Raghupathi, and Lalitha welcomed us with such warmth that it felt like they had known us for years. The icebreaker games did their magic, and by the end of the first day, I was already sharing laughs and stories with my fellow happy campers.

Each session was a whirlwind of inspiration, from rousing talks on leadership to engaging interpersonal relationships, communication and team-building exercises. I particularly enjoyed the workshops on service and community discussions. Picture this: a group of youngsters, who barely knew each other a day ago, debating life's big questions and sharing our deepest dreams, fears and forging connections that felt timeless.

One night, under a starlit sky, I realised something profound: I had found my calling. The camaraderie, the shared sense of growth, the idea that leadership was not about power but service and giving back to the community-it all resonated deeply within many of us.

Forty years later, now a proud Rotarian with the Rotary Club of Bangalore Cantonment, I often reflect on those pivotal few days. It was there I learned that true leadership wasn't about wielding power but about serving others. The lessons from RYLA-service before self, the value of community, and the joy of giving-have shaped my life in profound ways.

With a heart full of gratitude, I thank the Rotary Club of Bangalore Cantonment for embedding these values into my very being. The RYLA camp wasn't just an event; it was the start of a lifelong journey of servant leadership and service, with a dash of humour and a sprinkle of camaraderie and fellowship.

What is ROTARY YOUTH LEADERSHIP AWARDS (RYLA)?

The purpose of RYLA is, to demonstrate further Rotary's respect and concern for Youth and to encourage and assist selected Youth Leaders and potential leaders in responsible and effective voluntary Youth Leadership by providing them with an ideal training experience. To recognise publicly the high qualities of the many young people who are rendering service to the communities as Youth Leaders.

RYLA is a district project that involves young people and Rotarians of every Rotary Community in the district.

Through RYLA, every Rotary Club is enabled to acknowledge the service to the Community by sponsoring a few youngsters to the programme. It stimulates Youth Leaders and provides them with improved techniques of leadership. This enthusiasm and the improved techniques are brought back to the Community from which the awardee was sponsored, thus effecting the impact of these Youth Leaders on all the young people in the community.

A man was complaining to his tailor about the delay in making a new suit.
"Six weeks!" he protested. "Why? The world was created in six days!"
"I know," countered the tailor. "And just look at it!"

VOCATIONAL COMMITTEE BRINGS CLEAN DRINKING WATER TO UNDERPRIVILEGED SECTIONS

In an effort to uplift underprivileged communities, the Vocational Committee has successfully installed four drinking water systems across various essential institutions during the Rotary Year 2023-24. This initiative targeted government schools, old age homes, and a school for children with disabilities, ensuring access to clean and safe drinking water for those who need it most.

Two of the installations took place at government schools near Whitefield and Subbaipalaya where children previously faced challenges accessing clean water. By providing a reliable water system, the committee aims to foster a healthier learning environment.

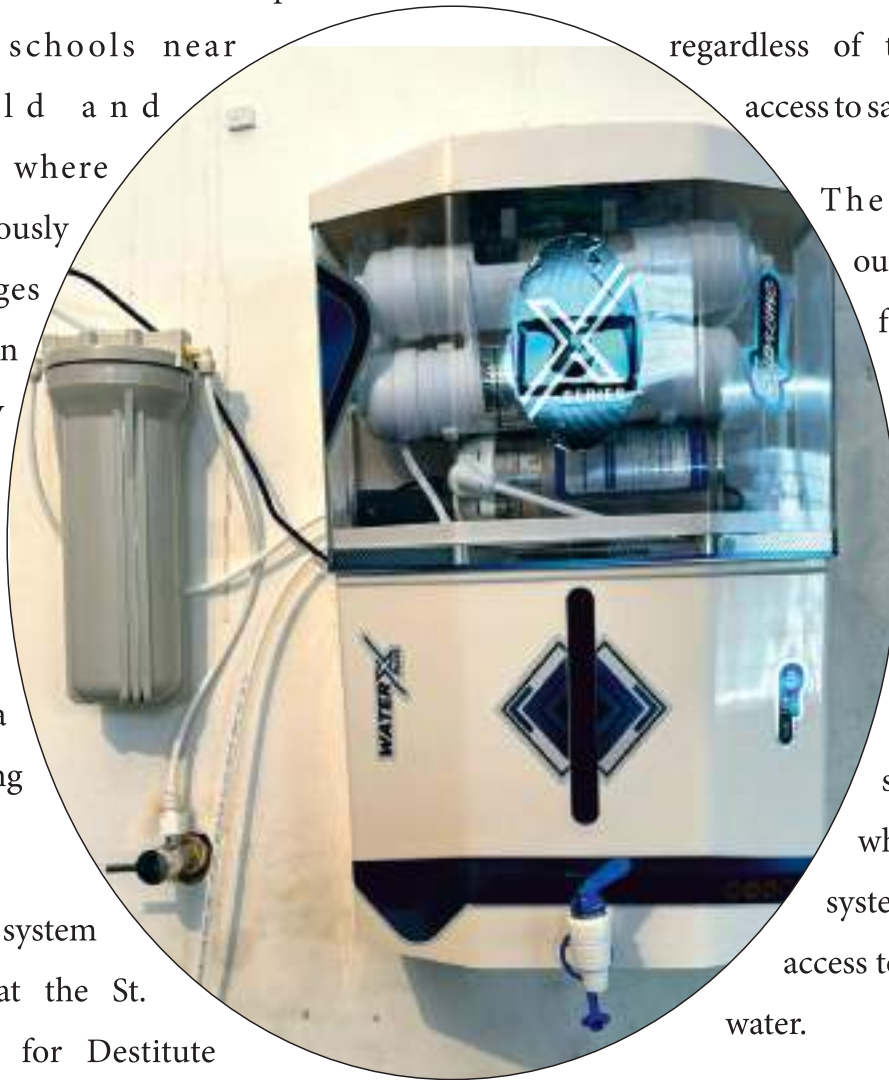

The third water system was installed at the St. Charles Home for Destitute Women. The lack of clean drinking water had been a persistent issue, impacting the health and quality of life of the residents. With the new system in place, the residents can enjoy safe water, which is crucial for their hydration, medication, and overall well-being.

The final installation was at The Association of People with Disability, a school dedicated to children with disabilities. These children often face unique challenges, and access to clean drinking water should not be one of them. The new water system is designed to cater to the needs of the kitchen of the school to ensure safe drinking water in the canteen so that all students, regardless of their abilities have access to safe drinking water.

The total financial outflow for this project for all 4 water systems was around Rs. 1,33,000.

This initiative has positively impacted the lives of over 600 students and women who will use these systems daily and have access to safe drinking water.

The Vocational Committee extends heartfelt gratitude to everyone involved, emphasizing that collective efforts can lead to significant positive change.

The Ubiquitous Aadhaar

Ah, the Aadhaar card - a small piece of plastic that wields immense power. Need a new gadget? Flash that Aadhaar. Eyeing that sparkling piece of jewelry? Aadhaar to the rescue. Getting admitted to a school or college? Don't forget your Aadhaar. Hospital visit? Book a gas cylinder? Flight ticket? You guessed it - Aadhaar, Aadhaar, Aadhaar!

The Mysterious Data Vault

But have you ever wondered what happens to all this data once it's collected? Where does it go? Is there a secret vault where all our details are stored, guarded by tech wizards and mythical creatures? Or is it floating in cyberspace, waiting for a digital Robin Hood to come and snatch it away?

Government Offices... The Land of the Photo-ID

Now, let's switch gears and visit our beloved government offices. When you apply for a ration card, a driving license, or an RC card, you'd think the same level of scrutiny applies, right? Wrong! Here, the humble photograph reigns supreme. An examiner looks at your photo, maybe nods sagely, and voila — your application is validated. No Aadhaar details, no biometrics, just a good old-fashioned glance at your mugshot.

The Vigilance Paradox

This raises an intriguing question: How accurate are these validations? Are they truly verifying identities or just going through the motions? It makes one wonder about the authenticity of licenses issued and votes allotted. It's almost as if our vigilant examiners are playing a game of "Spot the Difference" with real-life consequences.

The Identity Thieves: Lurking in the Shadows

While we ponder the mysteries of data validation, there's another group that's ever so interested in our Aadhaar details - identity thieves. These digital bandits are always on the lookout, ready to pounce on any data they can get their hands on. So, how safe is our data in these various offices and organizations? Is there any way to protect it from these nefarious characters?

The Knight in Shining Armor

Thankfully, there's a glimmer of hope on the horizon - the new Data Protection and Privacy Act (DPDPA) 2023. This legislation promises to be the knight in shining armor we've all been waiting for. It mandates that every organization, regardless of size or nature, must be compliant with data protection norms. It's like putting a digital fortress around our precious Aadhaar data.

The Double-Edged Sword

In conclusion, our Aadhaar card is both a blessing and a curse. It simplifies our lives in countless ways, but it also opens up a Pandora's box of data privacy concerns. While government offices continue to baffle us with their photo-only validation methods, and identity thieves lurk in the shadows, the DPDPA 2023 gives us a reason to hope. Here's to a future where our Aadhaar data is as safe as our most cherished secrets, guarded by the might of modern legislation.

So, the next time you hand over your Aadhaar card, take a moment to appreciate the epic journey it embarks on. Who knew a simple piece of plastic could lead such an adventurous life? Ann

Pratima Prakash
