HEALTHY COMMUNITIES, SUSTAINABLE FUTURES

December, recognized as Disease Prevention and Treatment Month, offered a timely opportunity to reaffirm Rotary's long-standing commitment to improving lives through health, sustainability, and empowerment. Throughout the month, Rotary's focus extended beyond treatment alone, emphasizing prevention, awareness, and long-term well-being as essential pillars of community development. Guided by the vision of The Rotary Foundation, clubs across the district addressed health challenges while simultaneously strengthening livelihoods and promoting self-reliance.

District initiatives reflected Rotary's integrated approach to development—where healthcare is not viewed in isolation, but as part of a broader ecosystem that includes education, skill development, entrepreneurship, and community capacity building. From preventive health programs and awareness drives to initiatives that supported economic stability and personal growth, clubs worked collectively to create meaningful and lasting impact. These efforts underscored the belief that healthy individuals form the foundation of resilient families and thriving communities.

December also stood as a testament to Rotary's unity and collaborative strength. During this period, several District Governor Official Club Visits were conducted, providing valuable opportunities for dialogue, alignment, and deeper engagement among clubs. These interactions reinforced shared goals, strengthened inter-club relationships, and highlighted best practices that continue to elevate the quality and reach of Rotary service across the district.

Together, these achievements reflect Rotary's unwavering dedication to advancing public health, empowering communities, and fostering a more peaceful and self-reliant society. The collective commitment demonstrated during the month serves as a reminder that sustainable change is possible when service is driven by purpose, compassion, and collaboration.

On behalf of Rotary International District 3240, I extend my sincere appreciation to every Rotarian for your dedication, empathy, and tireless service. Through your efforts, we continue to inspire positive change and move steadily toward a healthier, stronger, and more equitable future for all.

Long Live Rotary

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This month's special issue of Rotary magazine focuses on happiness, a fundamental human aspiration. Beyond mere emotion, this state of positive well-being—and the conditions required to create and sustain it—represents a universal right.

December also marks Rotary's Disease Prevention and Treatment Month, highlighting our members' efforts to promote health and wellness, including mental wellness. According to a recent World Health Organization report, nearly one in seven people globally experience a mental health disorder, yet only 9 percent of individuals with depression receive adequate treatment.

Rotary provides a powerful mechanism for supporting emotional well-being and happiness: friendship. The connections we forge within Rotary serve as catalysts for meaningful change, as I have witnessed firsthand.

When fellow members initially proposed my club presidency, I declined. My stutter created a profound fear of public speaking. However, the support and encouragement of my club members enabled me to confront this challenge, ultimately allowing me to address audiences with confidence.

Today, I regularly speak before audiences—some numbering in the thousands—in a language beyond my native tongue. The Rotary members in my life facilitated transformative personal growth.

This fellowship provides both the courage and resources to create lasting global change, particularly in mental health services, which require substantial improvement. The WHO reports that governments allocate an average of only 2 percent of health budgets to mental health, with merely 11 percent of that funding reaching community-based services. In some countries, only one trained mental health professional serves every 100,000 people.

The WHO has called for strategic and urgent action to address this gap. Rotary can respond by championing mental health awareness within our clubs, collaborating with local health systems, funding training for community health workers, and supporting initiatives that deliver care to underserved areas. Even modest investments in mental health yield significant returns in productivity, public health, and happiness.

While creating lasting change globally, we must also prioritize mutual support. Past RI President Gordon McInally wisely reminds us to move beyond asking "How are you?" and instead ask "How are you really?"

As we enter a new year of possibilities, let us Unite for Good—for healing, friendship, and access to happiness.

Francesco Arezzo
President,
Rotary International – 2025-26

ROTARY FOUNDATION'S UNDENIABLE IMPACT

The Rotary Foundation continues to demonstrate how vision, partnerships, and community engagement can transform global health. As part of the Programmes of Scale initiative launched in 2020/21, Rotary's first major grant recipient, Partners for a Malaria-Free Zambia, set the stage for even greater collaborations.

Building on that success, the Gates Foundation and World Vision partnered with Rotary to launch the Healthy Communities Challenge — now Rotary's most significant disease prevention initiative after polio eradication.

This initiative targets pneumonia, malaria, and diarrheal diseases, which remain the leading killers of children under five in many parts of Africa, claiming nearly 1 million young lives each year. Working with PATH, a global nonprofit dedicated to health equity, the program is saving lives in the Democratic Republic of Congo, Mozambique, Nigeria, and Zambia.

In Mozambique, for example, the Healthy Communities Challenge mobilizes resources, technical expertise, and volunteers to strengthen health systems. Community health workers are trained to deliver lifesaving education, prevention tools, and early treatment to families in remote areas. The program expands access to testing, diagnosis, and treatment, ensuring children receive timely care. In its first year, the initiative reached thousands of households across four districts, supporting more than 4,400 community health workers.

Through the Healthy Communities Challenge, Programmes of Scale, and Rotary's ongoing commitment to polio eradication, the Foundation proves that partnerships and collective action can save lives and build healthier futures.

Your support of The Rotary Foundation makes you part of this life-changing work.

ROTARY FOUNDATION'S UNDENIABLE IMPACT

December is Rotary's Disease Prevention and Treatment Month, a time when volunteer networks unite to support children's health and wellbeing. Across regions from Great Britain and Ireland to Ukraine and South Africa, these efforts show that prevention and treatment are not only about hospitals and medicines but about people who choose to show up for families and communities.

Butterfly Home in KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa began with one abandoned baby and grew into a refuge for children with serious conditions. With support from Rotary clubs and partners, a Global Grant funded specialist equipment and caregiver training. The project has improved care for children while creating skills and livelihoods for local women, offering dignity and long-term benefits.

In Ukraine, for families uprooted by war, Ukrainian-language books provide comfort and identity. Rotary projects such as Gift a Poem to a Child and Vitalii Petrenko & the Secret of the Roman Baths distribute illustrated books and audio recordings, helping children reconnect with culture and cope with trauma. The Rotary Tower of Children's Books: From Pages to Peace expands opportunities for shared reading and creative sessions, strengthening wellbeing and trust.

Rotary Friendship Boxes, packed with toys, books, and supplies, began at kitchen tables and schools in Great Britain and Ireland. Sent to Ukraine through Rotary networks, these boxes bring joy and reassurance to children in shelters and community spaces, reminding them they are not forgotten.

Each project began with people who refused to look away, turning concern into action. Rotary's global network transforms these moments into meaningful initiatives, proving that prevention and treatment are more than medical terms – they are a shared promise that no child should face illness or trauma alone.

“Life Restored Through Sight: Rotary Club of Hetauda Brought Vision Back to an 82-Year-Old Man”

Eighty-two-year-old Sanukanchha Syangtan of Bhalukharka, Indrasarovar Rural Municipality-2, had been unable to walk independently for nearly two years after cataracts covered both of his eyes. Dependent on his 15-year-old granddaughter for daily movement, he had lived with blurred vision for a long time but could not afford eye examinations, relying solely on a senior citizen allowance.

At the initiative of the Rotary Club of Hetauda, Syangtan attended a free eye camp in Indrasarovar with the support of his granddaughter. The examination confirmed cataracts in both eyes. The following day, with assistance from Rotary volunteers and health workers, he was brought from his home to the surgery camp at Shree Panchakanya Secondary School, Khanikhet.

Using modern technology and the expertise of skilled doctors, the surgery was completed successfully, fully restoring his vision. Overjoyed after the operation, Syangtan said it felt as if life had returned to him. He expressed deep happiness at being able to see clearly again after two years and offered heartfelt gratitude to the doctors, health workers, and Rotary team for giving him the gift of sight.

EDITORIAL

Greetings, fellow Rotarians,

As we arrive at December, we stand at a meaningful point in the Rotary year 2025–26. It is a time not just to stay informed, but to pause, reflect, and assess how our intentions are translating into action across Rotary International District 3240.

As editor of the Governor's Monthly Letter, my objective remains clear: to ensure this platform serves as a practical and credible channel of communication between the District Governor and every club in our district. The GML is meant to inform, connect, and inspire, but most importantly, it should help clubs learn from each other and raise the collective standard of service.

The first half of the Rotary year has seen clubs move from planning to execution. Installations and orientations are behind us. What now matters is consistency, follow-through, and measurable impact. Across the district, clubs have undertaken service initiatives, strengthened fellowship, and engaged members in meaningful ways. December offers an opportunity to review what is working well and identify where we must improve before the second half of the year.

GML serves as a dynamic platform that informs, inspires, and connects every member of the Rotary family. Each edition is thoughtfully curated to reflect the true essence of Rotary—showcasing stories of service, innovation, and compassion that highlight the strength, dedication, and unity of our community. More than a record of achievements, GML stands as a testament to Rotary's creativity, values, and enduring commitment to service.

December reminds us that impact is not defined by intention alone, but by sustained effort. Let us use the months ahead to strengthen what we have built and deliver service that truly matters.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to all Rotarians whose unwavering commitment and generous support make these meaningful accomplishments possible.

Warm Regards,
Yours in Rotary
