ROTARY INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT 2025 - 2026

RTN. FRANCESCO AREZZO

Francesco Arezzo, a member of the Rotary Club of Ragusa, Italy, has been selected by the Board of Directors to become Rotary International's president for 2025-26. Arezzo will become president on 1 July.

The Board conducted a special session following the unexpected resignation of RI President-elect Mário César Martins de Camargo on 8 June. Guided by the RI code and policies, the Board selected the new president-elect from a pool of candidates who were considered by the Nominating Committee for President of Rotary International in August 2023.

The 2025-26 presidential message, announced at the 2025 Rotary International Assembly in February, will remain Unite for Good, which calls on Rotary members to be a force for unity in a world increasingly divided by politics, geography, and ideology. Through service projects, Rotary brings together people of every background - across races, religions, and professions - in a shared mission to do good in their communities.

Arezzo is an orthodontist in private practice. He is active internationally as a member of the Italian, European, and American orthodontics associations. He is vice president of the National Association of Italian Dentists for the province of Ragusa and was the founder and head for seven years of the delegation for Ragusa of the National Trust for Italy. He is a Knight of Honor and Devotion in Obedience within the Sovereign Order of Malta.

A Rotary member for more than 30 years, Arezzo has served as vice chair of the Joint Strategic Planning Committee and as RI director, learning facilitator, and as district conference presidential representative.

Arezzo is a Major Donor and Benefactor of The Rotary Foundation. He is married to Anna Maria Criscione, an entrepreneur in the tourism field. They have two children.

MESSAGE

Rtn. MÁRIO CÉSAR MARTINS DE CAMARGO MESSAGE AT ROTARY INTERNATIONAL ASSEMBLY

Dear Leaders of Rotary

Today, as I stand before you as president-elect, I am more convinced than ever that our collective focus on membership is essential to securing Rotary's future.

Rotary's greatest asset is not our history, our projects, or even our unmatched global reach. It is our members - the best-qualified team of volunteers on the planet. I learned this lesson early on, during the Atlanta convention, when a representative from one of our polio partners praised the extraordinary dedication of our members. That recognition from an outsider deepened my understanding: Rotary's greatest gift to the world is its people.

Today, I want to share our road map to membership growth and revitalization, guided by three essential pillars: innovation, continuity, and partnership. These principles are not just strategies. They are a call to action to rejuvenate Rotary, to attract new voices and perspectives, and to strengthen our service to communities worldwide.

The world is changing, often at a dramatic pace. Technology, social expectations, and economic conditions evolve constantly, and Rotary must evolve with them. As Giuseppe Tomasi di Lampedusa wrote in "Il gattopardo" ["The Leopard"], "For everything to stay the same, everything must change."

Innovation is how we adapt to this changing world. It's not just about welcoming younger members but also engaging senior individuals seeking purpose and connection. At 68 years old, I know first hand how fulfilling it is to find a community of peers. Consider the example of my home club, Santo André, a thriving legacy club with 150 members. My wife, Denise, helped charter a satellite club, creating a space for almost 50 remarkable women to lead in their own way.

Satellite clubs, cause-based clubs, enterprise clubs, and passport clubs are examples of the flexibility we need to attract a diverse audience. While these models may not work everywhere, they offer us the opportunity to reach future Rotarians outside our Traditional frameworks. Future Rotary members are out there. We must meet them where they are.

When district leaders work together, envisioning Rotary beyond their governor year, they set the stage for long-term success. Rotary already faces the unique challenge of annual leadership transitions. Let's not make it harder by fragmenting our efforts. Instead, let's build a legacy of collaboration that future leaders can build upon.

Rotary's history with polio eradication teaches us an invaluable lesson: Alone, we can achieve great things, but together, we can change the world. Partnerships with organizations like the Gates Foundation, WHO, and UNICEF have been instrumental in our US$23 billion investment over 40 years to eliminate polio.

We would never have made this much progress alone.

So why not apply this lesson to membership growth? Partnering with business associations, professional organizations, and academic institutions can help us attract quality members while embracing diversity in professions and perspectives. Such partnerships eliminate the false dilemma of quantity versus quality. By reaching out to professionals who share our values of service and engagement, we can expand Rotary's capacity to do good in the world.

Ultimately, all our achievements, projects, and partnerships depend on our members. Membership growth is not just about numbers. It's about renewing our collective strength and ensuring our mission endures.

First, we must acknowledge that no one lives forever. The only hedge against aging clubs is the constant admission of new members.

Second, our capacity for service grows with our membership. More members mean more hands to help and more resources to invest in our communities.

Succession planning is critical. Clubs either grow or dwindle. There is no such thing as stable membership.

We must make recruitment and retention a core value, passing it from one generation of Rotary members to the next. By doing so, we ensure that Rotary remains vibrant and impactful for decades to come.

Rotary members are people of action. We don't wait for change to happen; we make it happen.

And what we people of action do? "We Unite For Good"

In a world often divided, Rotary stands as a beacon of unity and hope. Our projects bring together people of all races, religions, genders, ideologies, and economic backgrounds, uniting us in a shared purpose: to do good in the world. Rotary inspires us to be better people, to serve others, and to create a lasting impact.

I urge you to focus on learning the best strategies for growing Rotary in your districts.

Rotary has invested a great amount of time and money, not for speeches and fanfare, but to equip you with the tools to lead effectively. Our return on this investment will be measured not in dollars but in the new members we welcome, the innovative clubs we create, and the lives we change through service. And as you carry out this mission, don't forget one of Rotary's greatest joys: making friends around the world and having fun. Together, let's embrace this journey of growth, service, and connection. Let's build a Rotary that unites for good and ensures a brighter future for all.

Rtn. Mário César Martins de Camargo

RTN. S.V. RAMPRASAD

District Governor

Dear Rotary Family of District 3150,

I am thrilled to share with you the invaluable experiences and learnings from my recent trip to the Rotary International Assembly in Orlando. It was a remarkable gathering that truly highlighted the global spirit of Rotary. The true internationality of our organization was on full display, and despite the smaller, more intimate setting, the inter actions during the breakaway sessions were deeply engaging and insightful.

A special mention must go to President Mario, whose leadership and clarity of vision were inspiring. His focus on Membership Development, with almost 90% of his presidential message dedicated to this topic, reinforced the importance of strengthening and growing our membership across the globe. This focus is crucial as we look to drive progress and build a solid foundation for Rotary's future.

The assembly also showcased the significance of the Rotary Action Plan and the importance of setting clear 3-year goals. The formation of Rotary Action Plan Champions or District Chairs will be pivotal in raising awareness and furthering these goals within our Districts. I strongly believe that ensuring continuity of vision and projects through structured 3-year goal setting will give us the stability and direction we need.

Another highlight was the innovative format of the assembly. The breakout sessions provided an exceptional opportunity to engage one-on-one with leaders from around the world. I exchanged nearly 100 business cards, fostering connections and friendships that will continue to benefit us in the future. I'm proud to say that our Indian delegation was incredibly visible and active, which speaks volumes about the quality of training and engagement we undergo.

The introduction of the "Cohort Experiment" this year was also a notable addition. Small groups of 5 DGEs were formed to encourage daily interactions, and this format holds great potential for future events like PETS. While we felt there is room for improvement, this experiment could help enhance collaboration and knowledge-sharing across districts.

As emphasized throughout the assembly, Membership was at the forefront of discussions. While India is in a relatively comfortable position, we must avoid complacency and continue focusing on sustainable growth. President Mario's brilliant 9-point agenda, shared during the valedictory function, will soon be communicated in detail, as it will serve as a roadmap for the upcoming year.

The partners' program was another eye-opener. It was heart-warming to see our partners actively engaged in the events, particularly the cultural night, which was a resounding success. The involvement of Rotaractors was also noteworthy, as they were given an appropriate platform for participation and contribution.

Lastly, the event itself was perfectly orchestrated. There were no lengthy presentations or drawn-out introductions; everything was efficient and to the point, ensuring that every moment was meaningful. The use of technology, with speakers delivering from prepared texts displayed on prompts, made the event seamless and professional. Even the introduction of Past RI Presidents was elegantly done, without unnecessary fanfare.

As we move forward in our District's journey, I encourage each of you to take inspiration from the assembly's focus on membership, collaboration, and the Rotary Action Plan. Together, we can build on these foundations and continue to make a lasting impact on our communities.

Thank you all for your dedication and service. I am excited about the future we are building together.

Warm Regards,

Rtn. S.V. Ramprasad
District Governor 2025-2026

MY FAMILY

A passionate traveller and a book lover, Ramprasad grabs every chance to get lost in new places or the pages of a good story.

But the most beautiful chapters of his own life have been written by his daughters. As a young boy, he once dreamed of wearing a white coat and becoming a doctor. Life had other plans for him - but those dreams didn't go to waste. Instead, they bloomed proudly in the form of his two daughters, who both became doctors.

And just when he thought his heart couldn't get any fuller, his elder daughter, Dr. Kavya, went ahead and smashed another one of his childhood dreams - by becoming a national tennis player!

Now that's what you call a double ace.

Dear Rotarians,

Each month brings fresh reflections on what it means to serve - with compassion, purpose, and resilience. This time, I found myself inspired by a figure that has stood tall across cultures and centuries: the elephant. Not merely a majestic creature, the elephant embodies virtues that closely mirror our Rotary ideals - strength in service, quiet leadership, and unwavering loyalty to duty.

History gives us the remarkable story of Ram Prasad, a courageous elephant in the army of Maharana Pratap. Trained in the Kingdom of Mewar, he fought valiantly in the Battle of Haldighati in 1576. In the face of a formidable enemy, he remained unshaken - a powerful reminder that true courage is calm, steadfast, and rooted in loyalty. Just like Rotary's service, it isn't always loud, but it is always meaningful.

From mythology, we draw another symbol - the four celestial elephants from the Ramayana, said to hold up the Earth from the four cardinal directions: Virūpākṣa (East), Maha Padmasama (South), Saumanasa (West), and Bhadra (North). These silent sentinels carry the weight of the world - not with complaint, but with dignity and strength. Their role may be unseen, but it is vital - much like the work Rotarians do every day in villages, towns, and cities across our district and beyond.

As we navigate the months ahead, let us carry forward the spirit of these gentle giants - with humility, perseverance, and grace. Whether we're lifting a community, leading a project, or mentoring a fellow Rotarian, may we do it with the quiet strength of the elephant - purposeful, powerful, and poised.

Warm Regards,

Rtn. Padmini Lakkaraju
