

Anupampattu Toilet Project

The Irula Tribe, a cluster of about 500 families live in and around Devadhanam Village (includes Anupampattu and other villages) live in thatched huts. Their socio economic living conditions have been marked by poverty, illiteracy and with no social security. Because they do not have toilets at their houses/thatched huts, had to walk daily around 1 to 2 kilometers to use the common toilets and found it a tedious journey all the time. Children, women found it difficult to walk each time to the toilets so far away. The immediate need was to have a healthy and clean life.

When the Village heads of Devadhanam and Anupampattu village approached RC Chennai Towers requesting for help in any form for the Irula Tribe, we looked at building toilets at a common point closer to the houses of one large cluster of 170 families. After consultation with the village heads, RC of Chennai Towers Board and members, and a number of visits to the site, the place to build the toilets was selected. After meticulous planning, finalising of vendor, drawing the layout, and arranging all logistics for the construction etc, the project was completed efficiently, and launched by our DG J Sridhar!
