Tree Plantation Drive At Khelaghar

Khelaghar is a residential institution and training centre that caters to children from marginalised communities in and around West Bengal.

Located in Badu, Madhyamgram, in the fringes of Kolkata, the institution offers an idyllic environment for children to discover and nurture their potentialities.

Based on Tagore's idea of Ashram learning, the environment of Khelaghar gives its residents the scope to explore and connect with nature through its various curricular and co-curricular activities.

Khelaghar is spread over 27 Bighas (9 Acres) and has been designed in such a way as to conform to an Ashram type living, with an expansive atmosphere for learning without boundaries, learning that goes beyond reading, writing, and mathematics.
