Child Development program of T-E-A-C-H
 The Rotary India Literacy Mission's (RILM) Child Development Program, also known as Asha Kiran, helps children from disadvantaged communities get back to school. The program aims to:

- Ensure that children from vulnerable communities are enrolled in mainstream schools
  - Help children who have dropped out of school or are irregular in attendance get back on track
  - Help children stay in school after receiving the necessary support
- The RILM has enrolled over 50,000 out-of-school children in the program through 34 NGOs across 15 states.
