Cervical Cancer Vaccination

RC Kamarhati conducted a Cervical Cancer Vaccination and awareness program on 11 Jan'25 Saturday evening at Club premises prior to RWM. Cervical cancer is 2nd most common cancer among ladies next to Breast Cancer. This cancer develops in women who got infected with Human Papilloma Viral infection. Vaccination against this infection can protect more than 90% girls from this deadly disease. We have vaccinated today 22 adolescent girls with quadrivalent vaccine CERVAVAC from Serum Institute of India. Serum institute manager made this vaccine available to us in a much cheaper rate as per MOU between Rotary and Serum Institute. District Secretary Projects(Medical) Rtn. Dr. Minakshi Banerje was present on the occasion and addressed the Girls and their parents about this cancer and its prevention with this vaccine.

Kumbh Mela, the world's largest public gathering.. The Kumbh Mela is one of the most sacred pilgrimages for Hindus and is recognized by UNESCO on its Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity. The main festival is celebrated among four sacred sites in India, each located along the banks of a holy river, in a 12-year cycle. These sites are: Haridwar on the Ganges River, Ujjain on the Shipra in Madhya Pradesh, Nashik on the Godavari in Maharashtra, and Prayagraj in Uttar Pradesh where the Ganges, the Yamuna, and the mythical Saraswati rivers converge. Each site's celebration is based on a distinct set of astronomical positions of the Sun, the Moon, and Jupiter, the holiest time occurring at the exact moment when these positions are fully occupied.

Types of Kumbh Melas The Kumbh Melas, each lasting several weeks, are observed at various times and locations according to the Hindu tradition. These gatherings hold great spiritual significance and attract millions of devotees from across the world. The frequency of the melas varies, some occurring annually and the Maha Kumbh Mela taking place every 144 years in Prayagraj.

Tradition ascribes the Kumbh Mela's origin to the 8th-century philosopher Shankara, who instituted regular gatherings of learned ascetics for discussion and debate. The founding myth of the Kumbh Mela—attributed to the Puranas—recounts how the gods and demons fought over the pot of Amit, produced by their joint churning of the milky ocean. Samudra Manthana.

To prevent the demons from winning the Amrit, enchantress Mohini, an avatar of Lord Vishnu, seized the pot and carried it to heaven. As she did so, drops of the amrit fell on the Kumbh Mela's four earthly sites (Haridwar, Nashik, Prayagraj, and Ujjain).

At the climactic moment of each mela, it is believed that the rivers at those holy sites transform into vessels of that primordial nectar of immortality that conveys benefits to pilgrims. Another mention of the Kumbh Mela can be found in the accounts of renowned Chinese traveler Xuanzang, who documented the magnificence of the Kumbh Mela during his visit to India during 629–645 CE. His writings highlight King Harsha's generous acts at the sacred confluence of rivers, where the king bestowed gifts and donations upon scholars and ascetics. King Harsha was also noted for organizing a grand quinquennial gathering at the holy confluence in Prayag, during which he donated all his possessions. The term kumbh comes from the Sanskrit word kumbha, or "pitcher," the Sanskrit name for Aquarius, the sign of the zodiac in which Jupiter resides during the Haridwar mela.
