ROTARY INFORMATION

"120TH ANNIVERSARY OF ROTARY INTERNATIONAL"

On February 23, 1905, four men met in a downtown office building in Chicago, Illinois. The meeting was organized because Attorney Paul Harris wanted to create a professional group representing the friendly smiles and small-town values he had known in his youth. Harris, Gustavus Loehr, Silvestor Schiele, and Hiram Shorey decided to call their club Rotary, because their meeting locations would "Rotate." The name Rotary International was officially adopted in 1922, as they encountered fellow professionals around the world who also craved friendly smiles and humanitarian values. Over a century later, World Peace and Understanding Day marks the founding of one of the largest philanthropic organizations in the world.

The founding Rotary club grew rapidly from its grassroots core in Chicago. The Rotary Club of Winnipeg, Canada, formed in 1910, and by 1922 Rotary clubs existed on six continents. Rotary quickly became international. Chicago businessman and Rotarian Herbert J. Taylor conceived the 4-Way Test in 1932, and it was adopted as a guiding writ by Rotary International in 1943. Rotary International's growing humanitarian mission would not go unnoticed by 20th-century world leaders. In fact, forty-nine Rotarians helped draft the United Nations Charter. Paul Harris and fellow Rotarians championed the UN as a viable alternative to war. "It is true that the way to war is a well-paved highway and that the way to peace is still a wilderness," said Harris in 1949. Early Rotarians determined that Rotary International would remain a non-religious, non-political, non-partisan organization, bonded only by a simple creed:

He said that Taxes and Death are certain in life. Every one will have to pay some tax or other and everybody will have to die one day. Earlier there was a secret about budget and commodities used to vanish from markets till presentation of the budget. Now transparency is there. The budget now acts as an engine of development and charts a course for the movement of economy and country. The key highlights of this year's budget are improvement in the Agricultural Sector by encouraging production of pulses, lotus seeds, high yielding seeds etc. Dhaanya Krishi Yojana for packages for fruits, jute, cotton cultivation. Kisan Credit Card limit increased from Rs.3 to 5 lakhs. Encouragement for Fisheries sector for mechanised fishing and improvements in Lakshadweep and Andaman area for fisheries. In the MSME sector Credit Cards are issued with limit of Rs.5 lakhs. Fund of Funds created for providing to startups, first time entrepreneurs etc. India to become a hub of toy manufacturing, processed foods etc. Third key area is investment in human resources by increasing IITs and also increasing the number of medical seats by 75000 in 5 years. Fourth area is investing in economy through Public Private Partnership. Total 1.5 lakh crore interest free loan for States for capital expenditure for next 50 years.. Increasing air connectivity by adding 120 airports all over the country under the Udan scheme. nuclear power tourism etc. as booster for employment. Boost to Power sector by increasing Nuclear Power Plants. Next area is investing in Innovation. 20000 crore for research in the private sector. Last area is Exports. Export tariffs are diversified to increase exports to different countries. Regarding direct taxes he said that upto Rs.12 lakhs no income tax, limit raised from present Rs.7 lakhs which is a quantum leap he said. But if the income is above 12 lakhs tax base starts from 4 lakhs at 5% and increases slab wise at 5%. Maximum 30% above 24 lakhs. But salary earners and retired persons get deduction of Rs.75000 standard deduction is allowed taking non taxable income upto Rs.75,000. For senior citizens Interest income exemption enhanced from Rs. 50000 to Rs. 100000. Marginal relief is given to income earners upto Rs.12,60,000. Hence upto Rs.12,60,000 no tax for all. Liberalised remittance scheme upto Rs.10 lakhs introduced and no tax collection at source for remittances to educational purposes. For charitable institutions block period increased from 3 to 5 years. New IT codes will be introduced from next year making income tax laws more simplified.
