Harvinder Singh, Rotary Club of Bombay Arvind Jolly Award for Excellence in Sports awardee and Paralympic gold medallist in archery, discusses his achievements with his coach Gaurav Sharma, journalist Khalid H-Ansari, and Rtn. Mudit Jain.

Rtn. Mudit Jain: Harvinderji, your performance has been consistent over the years, with lots of medals and now gold at the Paris Paralympics. Were you confident of winning this gold?

Mr. Harvinder Singh: Thank you so much for having me here. Sir, I was always confident. I always say the destination you reach is always on your mind. It's never out of the blue; it has always been a dream since I started archery 12 years ago. That manifestation and hard work have paid off and led me to this gold medal.

Rtn. Mudit: All of India is so proud of you, as you are the first Paralympic gold medallist from India. Abhinav Bindra was the first gold medallist in the Olympics for shooting, and now Harvinderji is the first in the Paralympics. How does it feel to be the best in the world, Harvinderji? You are number one globally.

Mr. Harvinder: It's a huge accomplishment to win and become a champion at the most prestigious event in the world. I won a gold medal at the Para-Asian Games, but the Paralympics are the pinnacle of my category. For India, it's a historic medal in para-archery. I am extremely grateful and fortunate to have achieved this.

Rtn. Mudit: There's fame and recognition, but there must be immense effort behind it all. Could you share your training schedule — the long hours and the discipline needed to prepare yourself for such an achievement?

Mr. Harvinder: Yes, it was intense. We trained for seven hours daily, divided into three to four sessions, including yoga, meditation, and weight training. There was a lot of hard work. An athlete sacrifices so much to reach the top. It's been three to four years since I visited home for Lohri, Diwali, or any festivals. Even during COVID, we were in a training camp. There's a great deal of sacrifice and hard work involved, but when it all culminates in a gold medal, it's a feeling of immense sukoon.

Rtn. Mudit: Mr. Gaurav, can you tell us how Harvinder improved under your guidance since 2016 when you began coaching him?

Mr. Gaurav Sharma: Well, there's a saying in Punjabi, 'pooy ke paaon palne mein dikh jaate hain' (a child's potential is evident in their cradle). We first met in 2014 when I was part of the district team. At the time, Harvinder was in the compound category. By 2016, I joined Punjab University, where there were hundreds of students. Harvinder stood out — he was very intelligent and excelled in his studies. We brought him into the fold and helped shape him. He's exceptionally talented.

Rtn. Mudit Jain: What is the relationship like between a coach and an athlete?

Mr. Gaurav: We are like friends. Actually, I am 35, and he is 33, so we're nearly the same age. It's never felt like a traditional coach-student relationship.

Rtn. Mudit Jain: Padmashri Khalid, I can't resist asking — you've covered nine Olympic Games, which is remarkable. Could you describe the atmosphere behind the scenes in the locker rooms and elsewhere? Is it tense, competitive, or festive? We usually only see the festive side.

Mr. Khalid H-Ansari: Do you mean the atmosphere behind the scenes? Well, when you're representing your country at the highest level, there's so much at stake and such a huge responsibility on your shoulders. You can only expect the atmosphere to be extremely tense and supercharged. The focus is absolutely incredible — athletes are entirely locked in on their upcoming events. That said, the camaraderie among athletes is remarkable. Friendships are formed that last a lifetime. In some cases, marriages have even taken place! So, the atmosphere is dual-faceted: within each athlete, there's a burning desire to excel, but between athletes, it's very cordial and friendly.

Rtn. Mudit: Thank you! It's like a mini United Nations, if you ask me — people from all over the world. I can't resist another question, Khalid. How is the bonding within the Indian team —

Winners aim for nothing less than Gold.

The same mindset can add the gilt edge to your portfolio.

I know the athletes give their all, but do they bond well with the officials too?

Mr. Khalid: Mudit, you've touched a raw nerve here. I've had many issues with officials over the years. If there's one key reason athletes don't always perform to their potential, it's often due to the officials. This has been a recurring theme in my writings. Even when I was part of the All India Council of Sports with Field Marshal Manekshaw, we constantly clashed over this. I firmly believe that with better officials, our athletes could achieve much more.

Rtn. Mudit: Thank you, Khalid. I thought so, but I wanted to hear it from someone who's been up close. Harvinderji, the Olympic Gold Quest (OGQ) has supported you. Who else has contributed to your journey — your family, the army, or any other organisation?

Mr. Harvinder: OGQ has supported me since 2019. I had won in 2018, but after that, there wasn't much support. OGQ stepped in, and they provided an annual budget for my training, boarding, and lodging while travelling for sports. Even today, I am grateful to them for their support. Apart from OGQ, my family and the trust of my coaches have been instrumental. I'm also part of TOPS (Target Olympic Podium Scheme), which has been supporting me since 2019. They have a review system and provide support as long as you are performing. Additionally, the Central Government has been supportive.

Rtn. Mudit: I read that during COVID, your family played a key role in helping you train.

Mr. Harvinder: Yes, during the lockdown, we learnt that the Paralympics were postponed. I decided to resume training and arranged for equipment to be sent from Patiala. My father helped by levelling the farm for my practice. It was the post-harvest period in north India, so the farms were empty, and I had plenty of space. Many locals, who were free during the lockdown, came to watch me train. It turned into a unique and enjoyable experience.

Rtn. Mudit: I read that Abhinav Bindra once said he didn't even breathe while shooting because even a micro-movement could affect the goal. What is your experience with this?

Mr. Harvinder: Shooting and archery are similar in this regard. In my game, when you're pulling the bow, you breathe in. At the anchor point, for those 5–10 seconds, you stay absolutely composed, neither breathing in nor out. During this time, you release the shot. Breathing movements can cause vibrations that disrupt the first pull. There are specific techniques in archery, just as in shooting, to manage this.

PRESIDENT'S MONTHLY MUSINGS

November proved to be a month of dynamic engagement and impactful service for the Rotary Club of Bombay. A diverse array of events, from insightful speaker sessions to community-oriented service projects, showcased the club's commitment to fostering intellectual curiosity, promoting wellness and making a tangible difference in the lives of others.

The month kicked off with a thought-provoking session by Former Indian Ambassador to the US, Taranjit Singh Sandhu, who delved into the intricacies of the US elections and their potential implications for India. This was followed by a wellness-focused talk by Dr. Natasha Bijlani Khubchandani on effective stress-busting strategies.

The highlight of the month was a captivating address by renowned columnist, global thought leader and author Fareed Zakaria, who shared his insightful perspectives on geopolitics, the US election results and India's role as a global player. This meeting had the largest attendance of the year thus far at 188, even surpassing the 186 attendees we had for Orry!

RCB honoured the exceptional achievements of Paralympic Gold Medallist Harvinder Singh in archery with the prestigious Rotary Club of Bombay Arvind Jolly Award for Excellence in Sports. This recognition underscores the club's dedication to celebrating sporting excellence and inspiring future generations.

November also saw a series of engaging fellowship events which brought members together, fostering camaraderie and cultural exchange. Be it a Table Tennis Fellowship, an exclusive walk through the Mumbai Gallery at the CSMVS curated by Rtn. Nandini Sampat or a Bowling Fellowship, the club offered diverse opportunities for members to connect and explore. A fascinating talk by Professor Almut Hintze on Zoroastrianism further enriched the cultural tapestry of the club.

The Assimilation Committee also made significant strides, organising a well-attended assimilation event hosted by Rtn. Vineet and Rtn. Ptn. Rinku Suchanti at their beautiful home, in which there was a lot of bonding between old and new members of our club.

RCB's commitment to service was evident in the numerous impactful projects undertaken during November which included:

The Scholarship Committee launching a pilot Mentorship Program to guide and support Bhavishya Yaan alumni in their career aspirations.

Installation of water purification systems across Mumbai at schools and colleges in Mulund, Powai, Goregaon and at the Malabar Hill Post office, courtesy the efforts of young Arsham Hirani, son of Rtn. Akil and his partner Berryl Hirani. Arsham identified the lack of potable drinking water, collected funds and got in touch with us seeking assistance. Our Water Resources Committee led by Rtn. Siddharth Bhimrajka identified a supplier of water purification systems, who coincidentally happened to be our own member Rtn. Anand Parikh. PDG Sandip Agarwalla identified the beneficiaries and the project came to life.

Sailing Towards Brighter Futures: In partnership with the Royal Bombay Yacht Club, we provided a unique sailing experience to Bhavishya Yaan alumni, inspiring dreams and aspirations.

There was also a major moment of pride for all of us when our Rotary Club Bombay Charities Trust No. 3 became the first Rotary trust in the country to achieve a Crisil grading. We have been graded 'VO 2A', which signifies High Financial Proficiency and Strong Delivery Capability. This is going to be a game changer for us moving forward, as we will be looked at more favourably by all our donors and stakeholders.

Through these initiatives, RCB continues to make a lasting impact on the community, embodying the Rotary motto of 'Service Above Self'. The Rotary year continues with gusto as we move into the last month of the calendar year and we look forward to many more meaningful projects and fellowships!

Yours in Rotary

A Fascinating Evening on Zoroastrian Imagery

On November 29th, 2024, the Heritage, Art and Culture Committee, together with the Museum Society of Mumbai organised a fascinating talk titled "The Magic of the Chariot Race: on Zoroastrian imagery for perfecting the world", by internationally renowned scholar of Zoroastrianism, Professor Almut Hintze, at the Royal Bombay Yacht Club.

The attendance crossed 100, and the venue was packed to capacity, with prominent Bombay citizens and intellectuals warmly conversing over tea and snacks before the talk. From the moment that the talk began, the audience was enthralled by Professor Hintze's multifaceted presentation, which began with a discussion of the common Indo-European heritage of the horse-drawn chariot race, prominently featured in Zoroastrian, Vedic and Greek sources. Professor Hintze then explored the horse-drawn chariot race as a metaphor in ancient Zoroastrian poetry, where it is frequently used to depict the ongoing race between good and evil for the prize that is at stake, and how the pivotal turning point of the chariot race is used to symbolise the point at which good shall surpass and drive out evil from creation - thus achieving the perfection of creation. Her presentation was replete with wonderful imagery, with rich discussions on the Zoroastrian theological framework within which this metaphor of the chariot race participated, and with her own precise and beautiful translations of many ancient Avestan passages. The question and answer session that followed was also engaging and thoughtful, with many in attendance curious to learn more about the interesting linkages between the ancient Avestan and Vedic traditions.

This initial collaboration with Dr. Pheroza Godrej and the Museum Society of Mumbai has opened the door to various new possibilities that are being envisioned by the Heritage, Art and Culture Committee in the future. One area of importance is the preservation and restoration of original Zoroastrian manuscripts, for which the expertise and guidance of Professor Almut Hintze will be crucial. On another note, Dr. Rati Godrej - who was also present at the talk by Professor Almut Hintze has very kindly opened the door to an opportunity that has led to an exclusive artistic event called "Surrealism Reimagined" being hosted by the Heritage, Art and Culture Committee as soon as December 3rd, 2024.

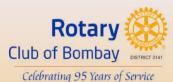

All in all, this was a warm, stimulating and enriching evening that has set the stage for much more to come.

A Step Towards Clean Water: Arsham Hirani's Initiative

Arsham Hirani, a 12th-grade student from the Cathedral and John Connon School, embarked on a commendable project to assess the potability of water in disadvantaged areas of Mumbai. Dissatisfied with the results of his lab tests, Arsham felt compelled to take action. Through dedicated fundraising efforts, he aimed to provide safe and clean drinking water to underprivileged schoolchildren. To maximise his impact, Arsham partnered with the Water Resources Committee of the Rotary Club of Bombay.

The project led to the successful installation of water purifiers and coolers at multiple locations across Mumbai. The beneficiary sites included:

- Government ITI, Mulund
- 2. Dyan Mandir Madhyamik Vidyalaya, Powai
- 3. Rishi Valmiki Eco School, Goregaon
- 4. Vivek Vidyalaya School, Vikhroli
- 5. Post Office, Malabar Hill

This joint initiative brought together the Rotary Club of Bombay and four other Rotary Clubs: Chandivali, Mumbai Mulund South, Bombay Chembur West, and JVPD Mumbai.

The installations were well-organised and attended by President Satyan Israni, PDG Sandip Agarwalla, Rtn. Anand Parikh, Rtn. Siddharth Bhimrajka, PP Vineet Bhatnagar, Rtn. Akhil Sanghi, PE Bimal Mehta, Rtn. Hiranmay Biswas, Rtn. Akil Hirani, Rtn. Ptn. Berryl Hirani, and Arsham Hirani, alongside members of the partnering Rotary clubs and school staff.

Arsham's efforts, supported by the Rotary Club of Bombay, reflect the power of collaboration in addressing critical issues. This project stands as a shining example of youth-led change and community impact.
