Polar plunge in Antarctica

by Ann Renu Chandra

An expedition to the 7th Continent Antarctica was long on my bucket list and November 2025 we finally took the "plunge". A long flight to Buenos Aires, followed by an enjoyable tour to Ushuai, the southern most city on our planet and we were on the luxurious World Navigator. The next 12 days were pure magic with the grandeur and sheer magnitude of Nature's panorama, absolutely stunning with millions of penguins, pristine snow & massive ice berges.

The climax of the voyage was a plunge into the freezing waters of the ocean. I had butterflies in my stomach, a lot of trepidation and severe dilemma to go or not to go. Finally I steeled myself and followed Nike's tag line of "Just do it". Calling all the Gods to my aid, I just jumped in. What a relief that I could swim up alive to the helping hand of crew. Of course a strong shot of Tequila was most welcome. The adventure lasted barely 30 seconds but the memory will last me a life time.

QUOTE CORNER

We must make the twenty-first century a century of human rights. We must build a society that has more than its short-term profit as its goal. To do that, the first step is to respect ourselves and to live with dignity, self-confidence and pride. Such people are then able to treat others with respect.

TIME FOR HUMOR...

A doctor, lawyer, and a Rotarian in charge of fundraising all die and arrive at the Pearly Gates about the same time. St. Peter tells them they may each have one thing to take with them to Heaven.

The doctor is first, and asks for $1 million. This is given and proceeds to enter Heaven. The lawyer, not to be outdone, asks for $2 million. "Very well," say St. Peter and opens the gate to Heaven for the lawyer.

Finally it is time for the Rotarian, who had just finished a fundraising project for The Rotary Foundation. St. Peter asks him what he would like to take to Heaven. The fundraiser moves up very close to St. Peter, and in a soft voice asks, "It it's not too much trouble, could I just have the names of those two people who were ahead of me in line?"
