

Blood Donation Camp

The birth anniversary of Swami Vivekananda, celebrated as National Youth Day, stands as a reminder of the power of the youth and the philosophy of "Atmano Mokshartham Jagat Hitaya Cha"—for one's own salvation and for the welfare of the world. To honor this legacy, a Blood Donation Camp was organized on January 12, 2026. The event was not merely a medical drive but a vibrant celebration of humanitarian values, resulting in a huge success that exceeded our initial expectations.

The cornerstone of this success was the overwhelming participation of the student community. In particular, the students of Rtn Ashok Kumar Goon from Visva Bangla University demonstrated exemplary civic responsibility. Their spirited involvement transformed the camp into a hub of energy and compassion. Under the mentorship of Rtn Ashok Kumar Goon, these students participated in large numbers, proving that the modern youth remains deeply connected to Vivekananda's call for selfless service.

Logistically, the event was a masterclass in efficient community organizing. A total of 30 units of blood were collected, which will serve as a vital lifeline for local hospitals and patients in need. This achievement was backed by significant human effort, with volunteers contributing 32 member hours to ensure the smooth flow of registration, medical screening, and post-donation care.

Despite the high level of impact, the project was managed with remarkable cost-effectiveness. The total expenditure for the camp was approximately Rs 4,000/-. This budget covered essential requirements, including nutritional refreshments for the donors, basic medical logistics, and certificates of appreciation to honor the contributors' altruism.

In conclusion, the Blood Donation Camp was a fitting tribute to Swami Vivekananda. By bridging the gap between university students and social welfare, the event underscored the importance of collective action. The 30 units of blood collected stand as a testament to what can be achieved when the spirit of volunteerism is ignited by the right leadership and a noble cause.
