EDITORIAL

नमन्ति फलिनो वृक्षाः नमन्ति
गुणिनो जनाः।

शुष्कवृक्षाश्च मूर्खाश्च, न नमन्ति
कदाचन।।

"Just as trees whose limbs are filled with fruits, hang down to the ground similarly learned people act very humbly. But neither a dry wood, nor a fool bends down ever."

The saying "True leaders don't just do different things—they do things differently, especially in times of crisis." is the best example of these two simple, humble and powerful leaders. Both these legendary leaders share their birth date, 2nd October, the father of the nation Mahatma Gandhi and the "Little dynamo of a man" former Prime Minister of India Lal Bahadur Shastri. Mahatma Gandhi's "Swaraj" means freedom for each individual to lead their own lives and good governance. Shastri's "Jai Jawan Jai Kissan" to motivate the soldiers and farmers of the country to protect the border and to meet the food requirements. Shastriji's Green and White Revolutions helped agriculture and dairy sec tors to develop. The philosophy of Mahatma Gandhi and the simplicity & humble service of Shastriji are the guiding lights to deal with crisis. Let us celebrate their legacies by following their inspirations of the ability to unite people, uphold values, and to face adversities.

These two leaders justify the shloka "Namranti Phalina brukshy" and their pursuit of truth, justice, and peace is a timeless endeavor.
