EDITORIAL

Language is the primary medium to establish and maintain social relationships. This is the means of worship, argument, imagination and expression. It conveys the identity, attitudes, behaviour, beliefs and values of individuals and communities. We understand the ethos of a community or individual by their expression of language. We can build a strong social life with this knowledge of human behaviour.

Family traditions and community practices play a vital role in shaping the language, culture and identity of a person. Language carries different cultural connotations and social norms. Students in a foreign country have difficulties in knowing the culture of that place because of ignorance of the language.

Presently everyone follows one dialect as it is easier to communicate all over the world. So the other languages are sidelined. Most of the rich languages are forgotten and we are leaving our culture behind.

Rotary International tries to spread knowledge of different cultures through various programs. Rotarians interact with each other through programs and interchange their ideas.
