*Today's programme
Talk on budget & Income tax*

EDITORIAL

The Government of a country needs fund to run the essential services and to support the economic development so, they impose taxes on people availing these funds. These taxes are of different types like income tax, sales tax, property tax and a few more. Sometimes people follow unfair means to avoid taxes. May be a well-designed tax regime can promote fairness.

A budgeting can help to manage the financial resources and responsibility of a government efficiently. A well planned and balanced budget can also help individuals to manage the tax. Every year, the finance minister places a budget for the coming financial year.

That means budget is necessary for individuals, government, and organisations to manage the finances, allocate resources, and plan for the future.
