Dear fellow Rotarians,

We all know that the quality of education in government schools is not up to the mark. Despite many initiatives, India is still home to the world's largest population of illiterate people. Till date, most students -- even in the fifth grade -- do not know how to read.

"Of the 480 million children in India, only a minuscule portion goes to the mainstream schools while the rest of the children go to the state schools,"
Taking a small step towards educating the government school kids, we in Rotary intends to transform the lives of many children by distributing Tab to the students of Government School.

On implementing this program, we will be a nation where education will be a meaningful experience that will empower each one. With this mission, we want to build a moment of teacher leaders who can re-imagine their classroom.

We in Rotary strongly believe that in order to provide access and exposure to our children, technology is the key game changer,"

Our district team led by our energetic Governor Rtn. Ranganath Bhat has taken initiative by joining hands with Public TV to distribute Tabs to the Government schools in our district. It is learnt that Chief Minister of Karnataka and education minister have shown interest in this project and have assured to do the needful.

I wish by implementing this project the deprived children of Government schools can be benefited what the private school children are enjoying

Yours in Rotary
P Raghavendra, President

Changing your terms for others

My wife called, 'How long will you be with that newspaper? Will you come here and make your darling daughter eat her food?

I tossed the paper away and rushed to the scene. My only daughter, Sindu, looked frightened; tears were welling up in her eyes. In front of her was a bowl filled to its brim with curd rice. Sindu is a nice child, quiet and intelligent for her age.

I picked up the bowl. 'Sindu, darling, why don't you take a few mouthful of this curd rice? Just for Dad's sake, dear.' Sindu softened a bit and wiped her tears with the back of her hands. 'OK, Dad. I will eat - not just a few mouthfuls, but the whole lot of this. But, you should...' Sindu hesitated.....

'Dad, if I eat this entire curd Rice, will you give me whatever I ask for?'
'Promise'. I covered the pink soft hand extended by my daughter with mine, and clinched the deal.

Now I became a bit anxious. 'Sindu, dear, you shouldn't insist on getting a computer or any such expensive items. Dad does not have that kind of money right now. OK?'

'No, Dad, I do not want anything expensive.' Slowly and painfully, she finished eating the whole quantity. I was silently angry with my wife and my mother for forcing my child to eat something that she detested.

After the ordeal was through, Sindu came to me with her eyes wide with expectation. All our attention was on her.

'Dad, I want to have my head shaved off, this Sunday!' was her demand.

'Atrocious!' shouted my wife, 'A girl child having her head shaved off? Impossible!'

'Never in our family!' My mother rasped. 'She has been watching too much of television. Our culture is getting totally spoiled with these TV programs!'

'Sindu, darling, why don't you ask for something else? We will be sad seeing you with a clean-shaven head.'

'Please, Sindu, why don't you try to understand our feelings?' I tried to plead with her.

'Dad, you saw how difficult it was for me to eat that Curd Rice'. Sindu was in tears. 'And you promised to grant me whatever I ask for. Now, you are going back on your words.'

"Was it not you who told me the story of King Harishchandra, and its moral that we should honour our promises no matter what? It was time for me to call the shots. Our promise must be kept."

'Are you out of your mind?' chorused my mother and wife. No. If we go back on our promises, she will never learn to honour her own. Sindu, your wish will be fulfilled.

With her head clean-shaven, Sindu had a round-face, and her eyes looked big and beautiful.

On Monday morning, I dropped her at her school. It was a sight to watch my hairless Sindu walking towards her classroom. She turned around and waved. I waved back with a smile.

Just then, a boy alighted from a car, and shouted, 'Sinduja, please wait for me!' What struck me was the hairless head of that boy. 'May be, that is the in-stuff', I thought.

A lady got out of car and came to me. She said 'Sir, your daughter Sinduja is great indeed! That boy who is walking along with your daughter is my son, Harish. He is suffering from... leukemia'. She paused to muffle her sobs.

'Harish could not attend the school for the whole of the last month. He lost all his hair due to the side effects of the chemotherapy. He refused to come back to school fearing the unintentional but cruel teasing of the schoolmates.'

..... Sinduja visited him last week, and promised him that she will take care of the teasing issue.....

"But, I never imagined she would sacrifice her lovely hair, for the sake of my son! Sir, you and your wife are blessed to have such a noble soul as your daughter."

I stood transfixed with tears 'My little Angel, you are teaching me how selfless real love is!'

The happiest people on this planet are not those who live on their own terms but are those who change their terms for others!
