you want.

As I attracted and discovered the kinds of team members I needed to realize my dream, I began to experience positive results. Today I'm abundantly reaping the benefits of this leadership.

6. MOVE FORWARD COURAGEOUSLY IN THE MIDST OF UNCERTAINTY

Life expands or shrinks in proportion to our courage. When leaders fail to make a necessary leadership shift because of fear or uncertainty, it only increases their fear, which results in frustration. The greater the inaction of the leaders, the more opportunities they lose because opportunities are always surrounded by uncertainty. All good things include uncertainty, and overcoming uncertainty requires courage.

I like what Brad Lomenick said about courage in his book The Catalyst Leader. He quoted my friend Andy Stanley, a wonderful leader who founded North Point Church. Andy was speaking to Catalyst leaders, but his words also described leaders who leadership:

Many, many great things have begun with a single act of courage, throughout history and today. A person steps out and makes one courageous decision and that one domino starts many other dominoes falling. We have to step out and take that first step, and we may never know the ripple effect of that one courageous decision. Catalyst leaders—your decision to do something courageous may result in something greater than you ever imagined. Step out. . .

HUMANS OF ROTARY

Greetings!

I am blessed to be an Entrepreneur, Diplomat, and Professor, and I am now wholeheartedly embracing my journey as a Responsible Organic farmer. While we have conducted business exceeding 200 crores, I have come to realize that my personal calling lies in connecting with Nature, Mother Earth, and teaching. Understanding the importance of agriculture and food security for city children, we initiated a social entrepreneurship project that brings school children to our farm for a day's experience as farmers. Through Farm Guru, we educate children on both the scientific and practical aspects of farming, nurturing a generation committed to sustainable agriculture and ensuring a brighter future for our food systems.

With lots of love,

JOINT SPEAKER MEET

along with

Rotary Club of HALLMARK

The joint online speaker meet today along with RC Hallmark was well attended and extremely well received. We had 35 participants joining us from different parts of the country to benefit and understand the nuances of Gut health .

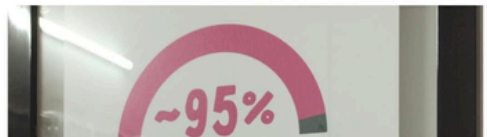

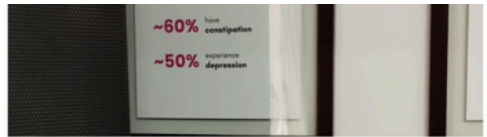

The speaker Dr Ashmita, founder of 9o2 detox clinic threw light on the connection of the Gut - brain axis ,the emotional, mental and physical challenges that our human body manifests in the form of disease. We will share the recorded video on request .

Thank you to all of you who joined on a Sunday morning. Stay gut happy 🌿
