Rotaract originally began as a Rotary International youth program in 1968 at Charlotte North Rotary Club in Charlotte, North Carolina, United States, and has grown into a major organization of over 10,904 clubs spread around the world and over 250792 members in 184 countries. It is a service, leadership, professional and community service organization for young men and women between the ages 18 and over. Rotaract focuses on the development of young adults as leaders in their communities and workplaces.

Rotaract Clubs around the world also take part in international service projects, in a global effort to bring peace and international understanding to the world. In 2019, Rotaract went from being a program of Rotary International to being a membership type of Rotary International, elevating its status to resemble that of Rotary clubs. As of 1 July 2020, Rotaract clubs can exist on their own, or may be sponsored by Rotary and/or Rotaract clubs. This makes them true "partners in service" and key members of the family of Rotary.

Along the way, Interactors develop their leadership skills and initiative while meeting new friends. Rotary Community Corps (RCC) are local. They are part of the community and help mobilize the community. RCC ensure that local needs are met. Their members have to live with the results of their work; their commitments are the basis for sustainability. Rotary grant projects that establish Rotary Community Corps help to ensure that the project's impact lives on in the community long after Rotary's direct support ends. RCC are teams of men and women who work in partnership with rotary clubs to improve their communities. Each RCC is sponsored by a Rotary club and, as with Rotaract and Interact clubs, the Rotary club acts as its partner in service.
