07 R.P'S CREATIVITY @ ITS BEST Relationship:- by R.P Hiral Bhatt

If you are happy in life right now, it's not because everything about your life is necessarily going right, but because a relationship that really matters to you the most is going great. If you are unhappy in life right now, it's not because everything about your life is going wrong, but because a relationship that really matters to you the most is not going great.

Relationships are like seeds. They have to be nurtured and developed. Expectations are like weeds. They grow on their own accord. When enough investment goes into building a relationship, the expectations in that relationship can be managed. When it is left neglected, then the expectations in that relationship shake the very roots of the relationship. Our problem is growing expectations in stagnant relationship.

Let us use the metaphor of a saving bank account. Deposits build the reserves in an account from which we can withdraw but we can withdraw only to the extent we built the reserves. Similarly, have withdrawals in a relationship are possibly only to the extent we have made deposits in that relationship. In a relationship where there is a substantial emotional reserve, mistakes will be tolerated and forgiven, the meaning will be understood even when communication is inadequate, and your intentions will be appreciated even if you fall short in your actions. In all, the relationship will be good because you are considered good. And because of the deposits you have made; build to the emotional reserves in that relationship.

However, there are some relationships which are taken for granted; the permanence of the relationship is assumed, and nothing is done to nurture the relationship. Expectations continue to rise, but the investments needed to build the relationship are not made with the same continuity. The emotional reserves are overdrawn. In such a scenario, you will be held an offender for every word you speak; every move of yours will be judged; verbal battles and slammed doors will become regular occurrences; neither will your actions be appreciated, nor will your intentions be respected. Such a relationship is like walking on minefield- it blows up any time and many times.

The solution is simpler than the simple. Deposits, more deposits and many more deposits. No active relationship can be free from withdrawal, but we can always make enough deposits. That on which you invest time grows. Relationships have to be nurtured with the investment of quality time. Take time to listen and to understand. As often as possible, communicate to be understood. Make your love visible by being expressive and demonstrative. Seek to give, but also be graceful in receiving. Receiving is one way of showing your respect for the giver, and it is a huge deposit. Deposit by deposit, build a great relationship and thus earn your happiness in life. Mythology shows that even gods had problems in relationships. Here is as opportunity to be one up on god. For our children, we are the only Quran they will read in their lifetime; the only Vedas they will see; the only Bible they will experience; the only Dharma they will follow. Your life and my life will either serve as a Warning or as an Example. I know it is an awesome responsibility, but how else can you explain why you come into this planet before them? 💦

Student Exchange Programs

A Great Initiative Enhancing Any Student's Life

Experiencing various different kinds of cultures and lifestyles is an integral part of building up of any individual's character, personality as well as portfolio. It is something so unique, which provides any individual an upper edge from the rest of the world. Inculcating a variety of cultures, disciplines and traditions serves the purpose of strengthening the base of one's character. For a student, it is a primary objective to build a brilliant portfolio which would serve him/her in the upcoming future. There exist, an ample of ways to do so. But the most prominent ones include the excelling in academics, having an outstanding co-curricular profile and having decent sports skills. The brightest of the students usually have these. but what adds the cherry at the top is the experience of a student exchange program and it is what sets them apart.

Since I have mentioned the crucial role of this program in one's life. let me elaborate it in the simplest way possible. Student Exchange Programs are basically aimed to provide students, the opportunity to visit the overseas and indulge in their culture, working behaviour and academic system. In this program, one student of a particular nation is 'exchanged' with another student of a different nation. It is the responsibility and duty of both the families, involved in this, to take utmost care of their new family member and treat him/her as their very own child. All the expenses, apart from the travelling expenses and program fees, are borne by the families. The student is enrolled in the finest school or university of that particular nation and is allowed to receive excellent education and opportunities.

by R.Annet Arav Tiwari

Student exchange programs open a new horizon of socializing for the students who are involved in this. The challenge of learning a completely new language and culture is difficult and what hardens this even more is challenge of making new friends. the acquaintances and contacts. The students who embrace this challenge with open arms not only develope their socializing skills, but enhance their persuading ability. also ability convincing and professionalism. Moreover, it allows them to experience various new behaviours, personality types and facilitates their ability to handle and important conversations and critical business deals.

Rotary Club is a very popular and generous organisation which provides the students, a life-turning opportunity through the event of Student Exchange. They manage to get various inspired and interested families together for this program and motivates the other families to do the same. They have a vast network because of which, this event usually occurs at a large scale, and has proven to be a massive success throughout the years, if we look back at history. Such an initiative is highly appreciated and, in my opinion, is the noblest of deeds a charitable organisation can do as it serves of transformation medium for the ۵S student's personnel and future.

Its so fun to write your heart out
