HPLC Testing For Thalassemia

Rotary Club Shimla conducted Free HPLC Testing for Thalassemia at Government College, Sanjauli and B.Ed College, Annadale, where a total of 270 students were tested.

December is observed as Rotary's Disease Prevention and Treatment Month, making this initiative even more meaningful and timely.

HPLC (High-Performance Liquid Chromatography) is an advanced and highly accurate blood test used to measure different types of hemoglobin. It helps identify abnormal hemoglobin variants and determines whether an individual is a Thalassemia carrier. Early detection through HPLC testing plays a crucial role in creating awareness and supporting families in making informed health decisions for the future wellbeing of their children.

All 270 youth tested will now be aware whether they are carriers of Thalassemia or not. This awareness will help prevent the further spread of Thalassemia, as informed individuals can take timely precautions and necessary steps before planning their families.
