CREATE HOPE

Dear Friends,

As we approach the much-anticipated Powai Fest in December '23, excitement fills the air with the promise of community celebration and shared joy. This event exemplifies our commitment to fostering connections and making a positive impact in Powai.

The Powai Fest is not just a gathering, it's a testament to the spirit of unity that defines our Rotary Club. It's an opportunity for us to come together, celebrate our achievements, and strengthen our bonds with the vibrant community we serve.

I encourage each member to actively participate, engage with fellow Rotarians, and embrace the festive spirit. Let us showcase the Rotary values that bind us, as we contribute to the success of Powai Fest and, in turn, contribute to the well-being of our community.

Together, let's make the Powai Fest a memorable celebration of Rotary camaraderie and community impact.

Yours in Rotary.

Next year, Rotary takes a step toward supporting peacebuilding in the Middle East and North Africa region when recruitment begins for our newest peace center in partnership with Bahçeşehir University (BAU) in Istanbul.

A series of events in the coming year will recognize the new center at BAU and Rotary's work to promote peace. The 2024 Rotary International Convention in May will mark 25 years since the first Rotary Peace Centers were announced — coincidentally at the Rotary Convention in Singapore in 1999. Recruitment for the first cohort of Rotary Peace Fellows at BAU also starts in 2024, and selected candidates will begin their program in early 2025.

Since its beginning, the peace centers program has prepared more than 1,700 peace fellows working in more than 140 countries to create a more peaceful world. That is certainly worth celebrating, but Rotary Peace Fellows are more than statistics on a page. Their actions have helped Create Hope in the World and will continue to do so.

For example, Jennifer Montgomery and Goret Komurembe — peace fellows from the program at Makerere University in Uganda — are co-founders of Magenta Girls Initiative. The international nongovernmental organization equips Ugandan girls and young women with the support and tools to overcome harmful gender norms, generational poverty, gender-based violence, trafficking, and trauma.

Ndzi Divine Njamsi, another peace fellow who studied at Makerere, has taken lessons learned about Positive Peace and is sharing them with students of his own in Cameroon. He became interested in the Rotary Positive Peace Activator training program after witnessing extremism, online hate speech, and violence in Cameroon. Since completing the program, he has brought his lessons on peace to students at the Yaoundé International Business School and other organizations in the Central Africa country.

The world needs more people like the graduates of the program at Makerere and our other peace fellows. To that end, we can all advance peace by encouraging our local peacebuilders to learn more about Rotary and apply for this impactful fellowship. Rotary members can also mentor candidates for the fellowship. Or you can work with peace fellows who have already graduated. They probably have an initiative or two that would benefit from your help.

Our peace centers in North America, Europe, Africa, Australia, and Asia depend on financial support as well. The program at BAU was made possible thanks to a generous gift of $15.5 million to The Rotary Foundation from the Otto and Fran Walter Foundation.

This new Rotary Peace Center will offer a one-year professional development certificate in peace and development studies for fellows focusing on peacebuilding within the Middle East and North Africa region.

Peace must be waged persistently; it is the soil where hope takes root. But as with any journey, we take one step at a time. Let's take those steps together.

ROTARY FOUNDATION MONTH

JYOTI SHIRALEE

When I am told after spending over 5 years in Rotary that we want to 'know you better as a person', it can mean I am ambiguous or obscure or don't mingle enough! Either way, this is reason enough for me to 'talk more about myself' which I admit doesn't come to me naturally!

In many ways, I am a bundle of contradictions. Let me explain. I have been called an introvert by many and extrovert by some.. I believe I am what they call a social introvert and a free spirited person. A Mangalorean by ethnicity (originally from Goa so Konkani is what we spoke at home),but grew up in Calcutta so have strong Bengali roots. Spent half my working life in the health and wellness sector but not very proactive when it comes to my own health. Am single and yet happy (happily unmarried). As a child I was reticent and rebellious, hated my own name and lied to many people by giving my friend's name that I adored (P Usha) as my name! My folks were aghast. But they didn't agree to change my name much to my dismay!

" Don't you feel lonely" is a question I have been asked often and maybe rightly so. That's when I realised that being alone and yet not being lonely or a loner and being in a happy space is a rope trick I seem to have mastered! And yet family and friends mean the world to me. My sister and brother (Nita and Gautam) who stay with their families in Thane/Pune are my anchors and pillars of support. The lowest point in my life was when I lost both my parents (whom I had persuaded to move in with me from Calcutta where they had lived all their life) within a span of 6 months due to lingering health issues just before Covid. I feel thankful to God though that I they were able to spend the last 5 years of their life with me and I was able to give them solace and support when they needed it the most.

JYOTI SHIRALEE

Being a single working woman all my life, my work inevitably took a precedence over everything else. I changed many jobs (CII, Dabur, Cavincare, Zydus Health, Wockhardt, Abbott) and moved cities. Each new assignment took me to a new city (Delhi, Chennai, Ahmedabad, Mumbai). Managing a career and setting up a home all by myself was not without its challenges but exploring new places, making new friends and handling new assignments was experiential with lots of memories to fall back on. One bizarre and nerve-racking experience I had was when I was chased in my car on the highway by police and then arrested for a crime of possessing 'something' which is a crime in only state of India! Thankfully I pulled some strings and walked free within an hour & celebrated too! In hindsight life has been a roller coaster and taught me one lesson - come what may you have only yourself to fall back on - so be your best friend! As a marketer, I have had the opportunity to build and nurture many brands and businesses from scratch- many of which are Rs 500 cr + brands today (such as Protinex, Ensure, Pediasure, Sugar Free, Nutralite,). Being closely involved in creating the sugar free lifestyle and protein awareness movements were some of the high points that I look back today with some joy.

Being in a corporate consulting profession today and being 'on your own' means that you are never a master of your own time and this is something I grapple with often since multi-tasking is not one of my strengths. This is one area I need to work on to be able to devote more time to Rotary. Having been a student of Political Science and Economics, I love to follow contemporary issues that shape news and narratives. I admire nation builders and wealth creators and standup comedians- not necessarily in that order. From the younger lot, I find Nikhil Kamath (Zerodha) and Ashneer Grover and Varun Grover very interesting for a variety of reasons! And yes, I still have a dream - of heading BMC someday, seeing the mess around us (because dreams are well, just dreams!)

R/Ann RITU KHOSLA

I am a post graduate in chemistry, followed by a B.Ed from Delhi university. Till I got married I was a proud Delhi-ite. Thanks to Atul, I have travelled all over India -- Rourkela, Jamshedpur, Calcutta, Mumbai and Himachal Pradesh, made many friends and experienced diverse cultures across the country.

Professionally, I have been a corporate trainer, a faculty member in a Hospitality and Management college and also headed the Hero mind-mine in Jamshedpur. Our stay in Himachal Pradesh gave me the golden opportunity to be involved in the CSR activities like starting a vocational training centre for rural women, initiating an anti plastic drive locally which was later adopted by the state.

I'm blessed with two sons- Karan and Varun. Karan is a cinematographer and filmmaker and Varun after completing his engineering is working with a start up.

I have always believed in the philosophy, " Life is an echo, give it the best you have, best will come back to you ". And I found the institution of Rotary a perfect way to live by this philosophy. I have been associated with Rotary since 1994, first in Bokaro, then with Rotary club of Durgapur, Bombay Powai, Steel city Jamshedpur and now back in Bombay Powai.

Thanks to Rotary, we acquired a great set of friends in every new city and developed a very symbiotic relationship with the clubs.

Being a Rotriann, gives me a sense of purpose and makes life more meaningful.
