KINTSUGI

Kintsugi also known as kintsukuroi (金繕い, "golden repair"), is the Japanese art of repairing broken pottery by mending the areas of breakage with urushi lacquer, dusted or mixed with powdered gold, silver, or platinum.

Not only is there no attempt to hide the damage, but the repair is literally illuminated.

The method is similar to the maki-e technique. As a philosophy, it treats breakage and repair as part of the history of an object, rather than something to disguise.

The 15th-Century practice of kintsugi, meaning "to join with gold", is a reminder to stay optimistic when things fall apart and to celebrate the flaws and missteps of life. The ancient Japanese philosophy that helps us accept our flaws.

The philosophy of kintsugi can also be seen as a variant of the adage, "Waste not, want not".
