Dear RCBSians,

We all know the significance of Uttarayan, the change of wind direction; the Sun's run in relation to planet Earth shifts from the southern run to the northern run – from Dakshinayan to Uttarayan. It is season of harvest and spiritually; Uttarayan is for enlightenment. This is the period of receptivity, of grace and enlightenment, of attainment of the ultimate.

Also during this month falls our Republic Day which signifies the right spirit of Independent and individual India.

The month of January symbolises the vocational service month in Rotary. Rendering our services to the society to the best of our professional skills to serve; mentoring the young, recognising outstanding individuals and integrity in our personal, professional and Rotary lives.

Change for betterment is the way of life; be it the Sun's direction, Indian Republic and its process to move towards Covid vaccination or Rotary for the benefit of the society.

Values are intrinsic to our lives. They add strength to our character. Let us build ourselves better so that we can make our club better and the community a better place to live in. That is our vocational opportunity. The greatest reward for doing good is the opportunity to do more. Grab that opportunity. Enjoy Rotary, enjoy yourself.

EDITOR'S message

Dear Rotarians,

The supreme happiness of life consists in the conviction that one is loved.

Charity and love are the same –with charity you give love. Love and compassion are necessities, not luxuries. Without them humanity cannot survive. Doing things for others has many benefits to us as individuals.

The knowledge that you're helping others is hugely empowering and, in turn, can make you feel happier and more fulfilled. Research has identified a link between making a donation to charity and increased activity in the area of the brain that registers pleasure - proving that as the old adage goes, it really is far better to give than to receive.

Having the power to improve the lives of others is, to many people, a privilege, and one that comes with its own sense of obligation. Acting on these powerful feelings of responsibility is a great way to reinforce our own personal values and feel like we're living in a way that is true to our own ethical beliefs.

8TH JANUARY 2021

This year Uttarayan was celebrated by donating kites, firki and chikkis to tribal children of Makadamba village. These villages near Naswadi are tribal villages where the residents have negligible facilities of daily living and are deprived of basic needs like milk, sugar and even water. These children have never flown kites nor have seen chikkis in their lives! When they were shown how to fly kites the children were extremely thrilled to learn and enjoy it! Seeing them eating chikkis and relishing them brought tears into our eyes thinking that we are truly privileged to be living such luxurious lives. Rtn Hitesh Mali and Ann Krupa Mali were generous enough to support the Uttarayan project to celebrate their son's birthday.

RCBS had an inter district joint club speaker meet with RC Bangalore Whitefield and other district clubs from Mumbai, Pune, Chennai, Gauhati and Coimbatore. The speaker, Mr Mukesh KL spoke about how simple innovation was being used in applying social good - example of using retina for anaemic behaviour. He gave a contextual example of how A for Apple does not make Uttarakhand or Bihari children understand the word - instead they can relate it when you say A for Arrow. The meeting was full of actual experiences and relevant inputs that we could use in our daily routine. Doing social good locally involves lot of local studies, behavioural aspects of the people living in the particular society and strata and an evolved approach to make any project sustainable.

A Very Happy Republic Day to All !

This year, we had a memorable Republic Day as we had insight into the Army Life by a soldier who has served the nation and is also one of us - Rtn Col Milind Gogate.

He explained the training, daily routine, customs, various posts, different operations... almost A to Z of an army life along with some difficult and some funny incidents. It was interesting to know the importance of Sarva Dharma Sthaal- a common place for all soldiers to offer their prayers and Antim Pad from which their journey of a soldier starts and there is no looking back from that point. Ann Nisha Gogate also joined in to share her stories of her stay in Nagaland and how army is like a big family that extends help in times of personal crisis. A big salute to our Army, Navy and Airforce.

Patriotic prayer was recited by Ann Sangita Matai, 4-way Test by Rtn Kevin Gadhia, Ann Suvarana Purandare gave a lovely introduction of Rtn Col Milind Gogate and Vote of Thanks was given by Mr. Amit Vikkal.

RCBS also inducted 3 new members in this meeting - Richi Choksi, Ami Desai and Shemal Shah. Oath was given by Vice President Rtn Nishant Ramani while Rtn Pulin Shah and Rtn Kruti Shah pinned them up. We welcome them to our Rotary family and look forward to a good association in future.

A letter from the RI President and TRF Trustee Chair on Rotary's participation in Covid vaccination

In these difficult days, we are so heartened to receive such uplifting reports on the unrelenting efforts of our Rotary members who have responded in their communities against the Covid-19 pandemic.

Today, the single question we hear time and again as we traverse the virtual world is, "Are we getting involved with Covid vaccination?" Considering the success and expertise we have gained in our polio eradication effort, this question is both natural and timely.

The answer is yes. We will have an important role in the months ahead.

This does not mean we will deviate in any way from our avowed commitment to eradicating polio, which remains our highest priority and will continue to be our only corporate programme. Polio vaccinations and surveillance activities must continue unabated, as must our effort to raise $50 million per year for this effort.

But as we know, there is a pandemic sweeping the world. The Board of RI and the Trustees of our Foundation met in joint session and have agreed that we have a role to play.

We ask you, then, to encourage your clubs to:

Utilise Rotary's knowledge of vaccine safety and efficacy based on our polio eradication experience to conduct vaccination education and communication outreach in your communities. This will need to be tailored to local contexts to address unique cultural and regional needs. Your leadership will be critical in crafting the appropriate messages and strategies.

Engage, where appropriate, with our current polio eradication partners WHO and UNICEF at the country level to offer Rotary's support to Covid-19 response activities, including vaccination efforts.

Partner at the local level with governments, corporations and foundations to support Rotary activities at the country level.

Through hundreds of global grants and projects, Rotary members have demonstrated what we can accomplish to raise awareness, deliver critical personal protection equipment and provide support for frontline health workers. As you learn of work being done in your area, please encourage clubs to add to the more than 3,000 projects already registered on Rotary Showcase (please log in to My Rotary first, and navigate to Rotary Showcase). We would like to know about them.

We have one final call to action: Help us combat the powerful, growing force of vaccine resistance and misinformation. Our advocacy in our communities will be critical — we need to spread the message about the power of vaccines to save lives.

Working together, we have done so much to adapt to the Covid-19 pandemic, to care for our communities and to prepare Rotarians for the work ahead.

We do this for ourselves and for future generations. We do this as part of our obligation to support our world as it faces the most significant challenge of this generation.

Telemedicine stretches to corners of Nigeria

On a visit to southern Nigeria last October, Dr. James K. Gude of Sebastopol, Calif., and Mikel Cook of the Rotary Club of Sebastopol Sunrise learned how hard it can be to bring medical care to rural areas.

“We drove 20 or 30 miles from the Federal Medical Centre of Yenagoa to a satellite hospital, and it took an hour,” recalls Gude, an honorary Rotarian who is medical director of Sebastopol-based telemedicine services company OffSiteCare. “Big chunks of the road were flooded, and there were people all over the place; we were going through villages and trying not to hit anybody.”

That laborious journey illustrated the reason for their visit – to help make health care available to people in isolated areas. In rural portions of Nigeria, a country with only one physician for every 2,500 people, many Nigerians seeking health services have to make trips much more arduous than the drive Cook and Gude undertook. The result, of course, is that a great many people simply don't receive care. While it would be ideal to get more doctors in remote regions, that would take years.

Gude and the Sebastopol Sunrise Rotarians are part of a larger effort to bring technology to bear on the problem, using telemedicine – the use of information technology to provide health care from a distance – to bring doctors to patients virtually. And thanks to a global grant from The Rotary Foundation, a team of health care professionals from Nigeria has been trained in telemedicine.

Telemedicine has been around for many years, but only as internet speeds have gotten faster has it become practical. Telemedicine allows physicians to connect with patients remotely, as well as to consult with colleagues all over the world. At its simplest, it consists of a chat via online video, but it can also allow a physician to examine a patient remotely using a robot.

The Sebastopol Sunrise Rotarians have been involved with telemedicine since 2012, when then-President Gail Thomas (a former senior official in the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare) proposed it as a club priority.

“We decided that we wanted to make a long-term commitment to telemedicine because it guides treatment and it saves lives,” says Cook, a computer consultant. “It counters the global tendency for physicians to concentrate in big cities, leaving the countryside without easy access.”

Since then, the club has worked with other Rotarians and with Gude to bring telemedicine technology and training to several hospitals around the world, including facilities in Uganda, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and Zimbabwe.

Participating hospitals can use their telemedicine capabilities to consult with Gude and his medical colleagues on particularly difficult cases. For example, a patient in Congo avoided an unnecessary procedure to remove his spleen, thanks to his physician's ability to tele-consult with Gude and his network.

Along the way, Thomas and Cook helped found a nonprofit, Global OffSite Care, devoted to bringing Rotarian resources together in support of telemedicine projects worldwide. Gude, whose company provides telemedicine services to several hospitals in Northern California, has been an enthusiastic and knowledgeable volunteer.

The Nigeria connection began in 2013, when Princess Frances Kemelagha, a psychiatrist at the Federal Medical Centre in Yenagoa and a member of the Rotary Club of Yenagoa, learned about Global OffSite Care at the Rotary International Convention in Lisbon and was instantly captivated.

So it was that in August and September 2015 – thanks to a global grant and the efforts of Rotarians from Sebastopol, Rancho Cotati, and Santa Rosa East, plus the Sonoma State University Rotaract Club and others – she and five colleagues flew to Northern California for 11 days of training under Gude in telemedicine best practices.

Since then, Kemelagha says, she has seen the training's effects in better outcomes for both patients and doctors. Thanks to telemedicine, a 75-year-old patient from a remote village was found in need of a potentially lifesaving pacemaker. The colleague consultations via telemedicine are having other unexpected benefits. "Our resident doctors are learning so much more that they are beginning to pass their exams with ease," she notes.

During a follow-up visit to the Federal Medical Centre last October, Cook and Gude found the Nigerian team making good use of their new telemedicine capabilities. Those include a donated InTouch Health robot, a device that allows the remote physician to see and examine the patient and even hear the sound transmitted from a stethoscope to aid in making a diagnosis.

"The need for telemedicine can never be overemphasized," says Kemelagha. "Health care should be for everyone – for the underprivileged, for the underserved, for the remote areas – not just for the rich."

HAPPY MAKARSAKRANTI

Vitamin D is made by the body with sunlight.

Sesame seeds (til) have the highest calcium (975mg per 100g). Milk has 125mg only.

The body is capable of storing vitamin D up to a year, and use the reserves.

Lastly, the body is capable of getting its vitamin D reserves full with 3 full days of sunlight.

The best quality of sunlight is end of winter & beginning of summer.

Now join the dots, and see how wise our sages were in ancient India.

They created a festival of flying kites where by our kids get excited to go in the open, under direct sunlight, throughout the day starting from early morning. And their mothers feed them homemade TIL ladoos.

Are we not a fantastic culture?

Makar Sankranti - the kite flying festival in India!
